REPORT MINE WAR UNDER CONTROL

SAMUEL GOMPERS IS REELECTED BY A UNANIMOUS VOTE

DEMONSTRATION IS STAGED BY DELEGATES FOLLOWING VOTE.

DUNCAN IS REELECTED FIRST VICE PRESIDENT

First Contest Develops For Position of Seventh Vice-President of Federation.

CINCINNATI, June 23 — President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor was reelected without opposition today at the federation's annual convention It was his forty-first election to the office

After the unanimous vote had been cast for Mr Gompers a demonstration broke out among the delegates which continued a few minutes. Then Mr Gompers thanked the delegates and said 'I shall endeavor to give the best that is in me'

The convention also reelected James L Duncan of Quincy, Mass representing the granite cutters union, as first vice president Joseph F Valentine, Cincinnati moulders union second vice president; Frank Duffey Indianapolis carpenters' union third vice president, W D Mahon Detroit, street car mens union, fifth vice president, and T A Rickert, Chicago, garment workers union, sixth vice president

The first contest developed when Thomas F Flaherty of Washington representing the postoffice clerks' union, was nominated to oppose the reelection of Jacob Fischer of Indianapolis, president of the barbers union, as seventh vice president of the federation

Mr Fischer defeated Mr Flaherty for seventh vice president on a vote of 17,725 to 13 279 and then Matthew Woll of Chicago, representing the photo-engravers union, was reelected without a contest

In the second contest Daniel J Tobin of Indianapolis president of the teamsters union won reelection as treasurer over Joseph A Franklin of Kansas City, Kan, president of the boilermakers union The vote was: Tobin, 18,519, Franklin, 12,542

The election of officers was completed except election of fraternal delegates, by the reelection without opposition of Frank Morrison of Washington as secretary. He is a member of the printers union and has been secretary for 26 years

The delegates arose and applauded the reelection of Morrison

Portland Ore, was chosen over Houston Texas as the seat of the next convention which will be held in October, 1923 Atlantic City dropped out of the contest

Peter H Schaugnessy of Chicago and A J Chlopek of Toledo were unanimously elected at the afternoon session as fraternal delegates to the British trade congress in 1923 Walter N Reddick of Washington was also selected as fraternal delegate to the 1923 Canadian trade congress.

LABOR INTEREST CENTERS IN ELECTION OF OFFICERS

By Associated Press

CINCINNATI June 23—Election of officers of the American Federation of Labor took the center of the stage today at its convention here although only one contest was a certainty President Samuel Gompers, who has held his office every year except one since the federation was founded in 1881, and none other officers seemed assured of reelection without opposition, but many delegates were on the tiptoe of expectancy on account of possible last minute entries

The one contest was that of the railroad group which sought to win a position on the executive council composed of the 11 officers of the federation J A Franklin of Kansas City president of the boilermakers, was the railroad bloc candidate, opposing the reelection as treasurer of Daniel Tobin of Indianapolis president of the teamsters union

No contest for the secretaryship held for 25 years by Frank Morrison, was expected although William P Clarke of Toledo president of the glass workers union had indicated a willingness to make the race

Aside from the election the convention faced a big program of work, but officials were confident that sine die adjournment would be reached tomorrow

CHILE AGREEABLE TO UNITED STATES COMPROMISE PLAN

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 23—Chile has indicated to the American state department her willingness to accept in principle the compromise plan suggested by Secretary Hughes for arbitration of the Chilean Peruvian dispute over Tacna-Arica

Peru's reply still waits on final advices from Lima but there was every indication today that she would accept in a day or two

The compromise formula as put forward informally by Mr Hughes is understood to provide in broad terms that the United States shall arbitrate the difficulties arising from non-fulfillment of the Tacna-Arica clauses of the treaty of Ancon, and that both Chile and Peru shall sign a protocol to carry the arbitration award into effect

PRISON INMATE SAYS MRS. OBENCHAIN TRIED TO "FRAME UP" STORY

LOS ANGELES June 23—Paul Roman an inmate of Folsom prison on a felony charge testified for the prosecution today that while he was confined in the county jail here last year Mrs Malalynne Obenchain "framed up" a story that he was to testify that J Belton Kennedy was killed by two men who were trying to blackmail him

FORMER PRESIDENT T. P. COAL AND OIL COMPANY IS SUED

WHITE PLAINS, N Y June 23—Bank accounts of Edgar Lewis Marston, director and former president of the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company and director of Bankers Trust and Guaranty Trust companies have been ordered attached by Supreme Court Justice Morschauser following sensational charges of misrepresentation made by Frank C Armstrong formerly a director of Blair and company of New York

Armstrong brought suit against Marston yesterday for $55 707 He charges that he purchased 100 shares of Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company from Marston who he alleges represented that the wells of the company were yielding 55 000 barrels of oil a day although he was receiving at the time reports that the wells were failing

After paying $54 500 for the stock, Armstrong claims he was able to get only $3 127 10 from them

Armstrong also alleges that Marston falsely told him the Sinclair Oil company and the Standard Oil company had become interested in the Texas company property and had made several offers for leases or full ownership of the wells

ASSASSINATION OF FIELD MARSHAL HAS STIRRED UP LONDON

APPREHENSION OF FURTHER OUTRAGES MINGLED WITH SORROW.

OTHERS IN PARLIAMENT HAVE BEEN THREATENED

Murder Causes Uneasy Feeling Among Law Abiding People In Ireland.

By Associated Press

LONDON June 23—The assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson has stirred England to the depths Mingled with feelings of sorrow and dismay are apprehension of further outrages as it is understood other members of parliament have been threatened

While the actual murderers were taken red handed a strenuous hunt for possible instigators of the crime is being conducted and detectives last night raided known haunts of sinn feiners in London

In connection with the reports of a sinn fein plot the statement is made that certain houses including the Wilson residence have been mysteriously marked recently and the home of Lord Carson in Eaton palace was guarded by armed police last night

Field Marshal Wilson it is learned, had received threatening letters for some time from anonymous and other sources but paid no heed to them

Efforts to trace the crime to the instigation of any special persons or parties in Ireland has not succeeded

In Ulster it seems to be widely taken for granted that the Irish republican army was responsible but no proof is offered and General Owen O Duffy's denial stands unchallenged

All reports from Ireland indicate that the murder has caused an uneasy feeling among law abiding people. The Belfast correspondent of the Times telegraphs that if the assumption there that the sinn fein was responsible shall prove correct the situation will immediately become extremely grave Popular opinion is already inflamed he says, the feeling along the border if anything more excited than in Belfast

The Times Dublin correspondent says the news of the murder was received there with feelings of sorrow and almost with despair as coming at a time when there were growing prospects of improved relations between the north and south

FIFTEEN MEN AND ONE WOMAN ARE ARRESTED

By Associated Press

LONDON June 23—Fifteen men and one woman were arrested in the raids throughout London last night in connection with the assassinations of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson it was announced in the house of commons this morning by Austen Chamberlain the government leader

He stated that every step possible was being taken for the protection of life in Ireland and England and intimated that a discussion of Irish affairs would be held on Monday Prime Minister Lloyd-George, he stated, was now holding a conference on all matters connected with the assassination of Mr Wilson

James O Brien and James Connelly arrested directly after the shooting, were arraigned in the Westminster police court today charged with murder They were remanded for one week

Long beforet he court opened a great crowd assembled in front of the court house but owing to limited accommodations the police allowed only those connected with the case and newspaper men to enter

The accused men were taken to the court room in a taxicab under strong guard

Two officers rode inside and one with the driver In the court were a number of plain clothes officers who have been engaged in the year in dealing with the sinn fein outrages in London As the cab abruptly pulled up at the court house the door was thrown open and the accused were hustled into the building

The court proceedings lasted only a few minutes The prisoners were charged with the murder of Field Marshal Wilson and the attempted murder of Constables March and Sayer and Alexander Clarke, a chauffeur

After formal evidence had been given the two men were remanded

The prisoners both wore thick bloodstained bandages about their heads as they stood before the bar Prosecuting counsel said no time would be lost in bringing the prisoners to justice

CAMPAIGN OF OUTRAGES DISCLOSED BY DOCUMENTS

LONDON June 23—The police investigating the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson have come into possession of documents says the Central News, disclosing a conspiracy to take the lives of a number of prominent persons and conduct a campaign of outrages

The two men arrested for the actual commission of the crime Connolly and O Brien the agency says are both former soldiers who have been living at Croydon a London suburb One was employed for some time as night watchman in the government offices at Whitehall obtaining his post there because of his army record

HAVE LOST A FRIEND DECLARES MARSHAL FOCH

PARIS June 23—I have lost a friend whom I always held in esteem and affection' said Marshal Foch to the Echo de Paris when informed of the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson in London

WITHDRAWS FROM RACE

GREAT ANXIETY IN BELFAST AS RESULT OF ASSASSINATION

BELFAST June 23—The situation here was one of great anxiety owing to the high state of feeling over the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson in London

Special precautions were taken in the disturbed areas, but the military and police were forced to fire on mobs several times

The casualties by mid forenoon were six wounded The area mainly affected is situated between Grosvenor street and Falls road.

Virtually every member of the Ulster government is under police protection A man named Ireland and a girl named English were wounded in a clash between civilians and military patrols in the York street area

Heavy rifle fire broke out in the Cullingtree road district today while the curfew was still in effect A wide area was soon affected and despite the efforts of a large force of military and police to dislodge the gunmen, the firing continued The outbreak followed an attack on a police car

Incendiaries this morning destroyed a store in Grosvenor street owned by Mrs Margaret McCullough, mother of Dennis McCullough former sinn fein envoy to the United States

FORMER SOLDIER KILLED BY TWO ARMED MEN

DUBLIN June 23—A former soldier named Lawless was killed at midnight by two armed men who rushed into the tenement house where he lived and asked for a man named Wilson The motive for the shooting is unknown

BLAME FOR RIOTING AT MINE PLACED ON OFFICERS OF COUNTY

WITNESS STATES FORD PROPOSAL IS OUTRAGEOUS ONE

WASHINGTON June 23—Henry Ford's offer to purchase and lease the government's power and nitrate properties at Muscle Shoals Ala, was attacked again today by witnesses testifying before the senate agriculture committee on the proposals designed to develop the Alabama properties Philip P Wells of Middleton Conn former law officer of the forestry service and administrative assistant to Gifford Pinchot when he was chief of that service declared he had never seen a proposition made to the government as outrageous as that made by Mr Ford

TO OFFER AMENDMENT TO ARMY APPROPRIATION

WASHINGTON June 23—Representative McKenzie of Illinois, acting chairman of the military committee announced today that he would offer an amendment to the army bill when it comes up for final action in the house by which the $7 500 000 appropriation for expenditure on the Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals would be made available in October rather than on July 1 beginning the next finance year as the senate proposed

GOVERNMENT HAS NO POWER TO AID K. C. M & O. ROAD

WASHINGTON June 23—The federal government is powerless to make further advances to the Kansas City Mexico and Orient railroad nor can it compel continued operation of trains if funds are not available for payment of the train crews and other employes This was made clear to Senator Sheppard today by officials of the interstate commerce commission and he has so advised persons along the Orient who have appealed to him for assistance

The Orient already has obtained a loan of $2 00 000 which recently was renewed It has been advanced three fourths of the amount claimed due for losses during federal control and the remainder must be retained for the payment of interest due on the loan

The application for increased divisions of freight earnings with intersecting and connecting lines has not advanced far enough to warrant a decision Finally the commission has never been able to create the revolving funds out of which the weaker roads were to obtain loans from excess earnings of the stronger lines

Although the law prescribes that no road may discontinue operation of trains without approval of the commission in actual practice this is nullified when the road and the company operating it is without funds to continue train service

WALTER HAGEN WINS THE BRITISH OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

SANDWICH June 23 — Walter Hagen the American professional golf star won the British championship today

The final scores of the three Americans were Hagen 300 Barnes 301 Hutchison 302 Barnes score for the last round was 73

The Americans appeared to have swept the field for unless J H Taylor the British star whose outward mark in the fourth round was 37, and Gassiat of France who had not turned in his score up to 5 p m should return unexpectedly low scores Barnes will stand second and Hutchison third

George Duncan the veteran British golfer made an aggregate of 305 putting him in a tie with Jim Barnes

J H Taylor's fourth round score was 76 for an aggregate of 307 or one stroke more than Hutchison the third American.

WALKEGAN ILL, June 23—Governor Len Small at noon today received a telegram from Colonel S N Hunter, representative of the adjutant general at Herrin, placing the blame for the rioting which led to the massacre of more than 25 non union workers on the shoulders of the Williamson county officials

Colonel Hunter who was sent to Herrin a week ago to report to the governor and Adjutant General Black on the situation told the governor in today's message that he at no time thought the Williamson county authorities could handle the situation and that they should have asked for troops before the rioting started

Reports were in circulation in the court room where the governor is on trial that Mr Small has decided to remove Sheriff Melvin Thaxton of Williamson county for failing to preserve order It also was rumored that the governor would recall Colonel Samuel N Hunter and Robert Medill for failure to keep him posted on developments

The Associated Press correspondent handed the governor a note asking if the reports were true A ross the bottom of the note Mr Small wrote

'Nothing to say now

A member of the governor's family commenting on the rumor that the governor was preparing to take action said

There is something rotten down there'

The governor received a telegram from Adjutant General Black quoting a message from Colonel Hunter in which he reported that Sheriff Thaxton had, he said 20 or 30 deputies on duty during the riot, but I know of only two whom I actually saw one of them being in office practically all the time

D E Duty states attorney of Williamson county telegraphed the governor that the list of dead totaled 22 with eleven wounded

START INVESTIGATION OF THE ILLINOIS MINE WAR

CHICAGO June 23—Attorney General Edward J Brundage stated today that Assistant Attorney General Rodenburg and one other representative left Springfield for Herrin this morning to make an investigation of the riot there which they will report to him

Mr Brundage made this statement in confirmation of a confidential report this afternoon from Springfield

'The attorney general's department has no authority to prevent riots said Mr Brundage 'but it has authority to punish rioters such action is open to us as we took in the case of the riots at East St Louis when we made an investigation which resulted in the indictment and conviction of ringleaders

Mr Brundage said he was unable to give further particulars about the activities of his office in the matter at this time

SHOULD BE PROSECUTED TO EXTENT OF THE LAW

WASHINGTON, June 23 — Declaration that those responsible for the Illinois mine disorders should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law was made today by Secretary of Labor Davis in a statement issued after consultation with President Harding

The secretary said one of the unfortunate features of the disorders which he added the department of labor deeply deplored, was that the death of the score or more of workers accomplished nothing toward settlement of the coal strike

The statement was the first to be made by an official of the federal government since the disorders began most officials holding that until the state of Illinois acted and had exhausted its resources there was nothing the federal government could do High officials however have condemned the Herrin affair and it along with the general aspects of the coal strike occupied much of the attention of the cabinet at its meeting today One member of the cabinet described the disorders as the most cold-blooded thing that has happened in America in years"

Those who are guilty of this crime should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law Surely those responsible for the continuance of this strike both among the workers and among the employers should seriously consider the fate of these workmen Surely no better argument can be advanced for the settlement of these disputes around the conference table than the dead bodies of a score or more American workmen who met a futile death in this outbreak Surely in this civilized age matters of dispute between men in industry can be adjusted without resort to bloodshed

'The department of labor deplores the violence which has resulted in the loss of life. American workmen on both sides of the controversy over the relations between the mine workers and the mine operator have been killed and injured'

FARRINGTON GOES TO INVESTIGATE TROUBLE

CINCINNATI June 23—Frank Farrington president of the Illinois district of the United Mine Workers left here at noon today for Herrin Ill where he will investigate conditions in the recent mine disorders

CHARGES OF MISCONDUCT WITHOUT FOUNDATION

WASHINGTON June 23—Charges of misconduct in office filed against Judge Charles S Lobingier of the consular court of China were said at the white house today to have been found without foundation The judge it was said will return immediately to China.

EXPECT NO FURTHER OUTBREAKS SHERIFF ADVISES THE GOVERNOR; TROOPS ARE HELD IN READINESS

HERRIN, June 23.—Two more bodies of men slain in yesterday's mine battle were recovered from a pond near the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal company and brought to a morgue here Earlier reports placed the number of bodies in the pond at 12 or 15.

MARION, ILL., June 23.—Sheriff Melvin Thaxton of Williamson county, today replied to Governor Small's request for an official report on the mine war by telegraphing the governor that "The situation is well in hand, there is no danger of further outbreaks and there is no need for troops" The sheriff also sent the governor two telegrams last night, the nature of which was no divulged.

HERRIN, ILL., June 23.—Official investigation to the mine war which killed from 27 to 45 near here, began today in response to insistent demands from Governor Len Small for action by local authorities, when Coroner McGowan announced that an inquest would be held immediately and State's Attorney de Le ia L. Duty stated that a special grand jury would be convened following the inquest to investigate the massacre.

The state's attorney expressed doubt that any definite results would be obtained through the investigation, saying that it was virtually impossible to obtain evidence He insisted, however, that every possible step would be taken and he telegraphed Governor Small an official statement to that effect.

Simultaneously Sheriff Melvin Thaxton at Marion the county seat sent telegrams to Governor Small in response to the governor's demand for information saying that the situation was well in hand and there was no danger of future outbreaks

Mr Duty in a statement made to the Associated Press, said that Governor Small seemed to have jumped a little too quickly in his demand for immediate action

I have received insistent demands from the governor asking why no arrests have been made and what steps have been taken to apprehend the guilty persons said Mr Duty 'Governor Small does not seem to realize that the first step must be the coroner's inquest I cannot move officially until that is over

'As soon as the coroner finishes his work, I will recommend to Judge D T Hartwell that he call a special grand jury to investigate the affair Evidence, however, will be very hard to obtain The wounded strikebreakers tell me they cannot identify any of their assailants and that they do not know their names. No one knows anything about it so far as I can learn'

Did you question the wounded miners' the reporter asked Mr Duty

Oh, yes he replied I asked them all about it

Did they tell you who were their companions and who started the mob in its march on the mine'

Why, I didn't think to ask them who were with them the attorney replied So far as I can find out no one knows any one in that mob It was just a typical mob—there were no known survivors and no one to give information"

Robert Medill state director of mines and A W Kerr state attorney for the miners, reached here and immediately went into conference with county officials and local officials They refused to discuss the mine war

They will take part in the investigation in an official way, it was understood Mr Duty said that the trouble could be blamed directly on the coal operators who imported non union strikebreakers when they knew that such action would lead to war

'This massacre was due entirely to these efforts to go against the known feelings of this county' he said "There have been many disorders here in the past There have been many mine troubles All have resulted in bloodshed It is well known that a strike cannot be broken in Williamson county Yet non-union strikebreakers were sent in here

UNABLE TO IDENTIFY MANY OF THE DEAD

HERRIN ILL June 23 — With four of the mine war victims positively identified cards found on the bodies of nine others may lead to identification

The positively identified are C K McDowell of Marion, superintendent of the strip mine Robert Shoemaker son of the mayor of Charleston Ill George Henderson and Joe Pitcavitz of Herrin The latter two were the only union miners killed Shoemaker a holder of two college degrees and formerly a student at three universities, was identified by his father

As the elder Mr Shoemaker gazed at his son's body he said

'His death will kill his mother'

It was the first indication that all of the strikebreakers were not of the ragged stranger type

Cards containing these names were found on the following dead

FRED LANG Chicago
ARTHUR R MILLER Chicago
ANTONIO MALKAVICH no address
NATHAN D OVERTON Rosepville Ind
ALLEN NORNE no address
J CASPER Chicago
JAMES SAYGHIZO no address; army discharge bearing serial number 6 330,340

Non-union wounded (all of Chicago) A P Findlay, Robert McLennon Jr William Cairns Thomas Flennogh, Joseph O'Rourke Edward Green, Ernest H. Renaud, John Kubunos, Edward Miller Edward Rose, Sherman Holding, Howard Hoffman, Frank Schmitt

Union wounded James E Morris, Johnson City, Guy Mudgens Marion, Joe Hockelbeck Zeigler

LIST OF KNOWN DEAD NOW REPORTED AS 44

By Associated Press

HERRIN, ILL., June 23 — Bloody Williamson" county, so called because of many acts of violence in recent times, most of them accompanied by numerous fatalities today was preparing for official action in connection with the massacre at the Lester strip mine when between 27 and 45 persons were slain after striking union miners had stormed the 60 or more strike breakers operating the mine

An inquest into the deaths was expected today, Coroner McGowan saying that he hoped to have time to get to this feature of the affair. There was no indication that a grand jury would be summoned although this was a possibility It was said that officials doubted if they could obtain evidence which would be of any value

So far as the number of dead was concerned there still was little but speculation A score were in morgues, newspaper men previously had counted 26 bodies in the woods and roads, one man died in a hospital Frank Farrington state president of the miners, announced that his official reports showed 44 killed Citizens still brought in reports of bodies lying around the country, but through all of it there was no way of fixing a definite number

In the wounded list there were 16 in the Herrin hospital three reported in the Carbondale hospital and a number of others—union striking miners—believed to be lying in their homes There was little question that the exact number of dead never will be known A dozen or so were believed to be

TAXPAYERS URGED TO VOTE SATURDAY FOR SCHOOL BONDS

SECOND ELECTION TO BE HELD ON $850,000 ISSUE FOR BUILDINGS.

3 POLLING PLACES TO BE PROVIDED FOR VOTERS

No Evidence Of Any Opposition But Negative Votes Are Expected to Be Cast.

An appeal to the property tax payers of the independent school district to turn out Saturday and vote for the $850,000 school bond issue was made Saturday by school officials. Although there is no evidence of any opposition to the bonds the fact that an unusually large number of negative votes were cast at the first election makes it important that every friend of the schools turn out and vote

The first vote, which was declared invalid because insufficient notice was given, was more than seven to one in favor of the bonds, breaking all records for the size of the vote in a bond election

There will be three voting boxes in the election, at the city hall, court house, and high school The election districts are not defined, and voters may cast their ballots at the most convenient polling place.

Of the $850,000 to be voted, about $660,000 will be spent for the new high school and junior college the picture of which appeared in The Times last Wednesday; the remainder will be used for new ward school buildings on the north and south sides of town, and for an addition to the Sam Houston school.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose Of This Treacherous Drug May Start Trouble.

You know what calomel is It's mercury, quicksilver Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—adv.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB REVIVES MOVE TO GIVE HALF HOLIDAY IN STORES

The move for a wid-week half holiday in local stores, which came up in the merchants association several weeks ago and was defeated has been revived by the Business Women's club, which is urging that employes in the stores be given Thursday afternoons off.

The previous move was defeated by managers of the larger stores. The Business Women's club wants the half holiday declared for the months of July and August.

As an alternative to this plan, the club urges that the half holidays be given different employes on different days so as to avoid closing the stores. The move is described as one to promote the efficiency of all employes and particularly women employes.

CAPTURE WHISKEY AND STILL IN WILBARGER

VERNON, TEXAS, June 23—A forty gallon barrel of whiskey a five gallon jug filled with the liquid and another five gallon receptacle partly filled comprised the loot taken yesterday by W. A Ish sheriff of Wilbarger county, in company with Gus Gober, sheriff of Hardeman county The capture was made about 4 o'clock on a farm two miles east of Chillicothe—It is just across the Wilbarger county line

Three barrels of mash were also found, and together with the whiskey were destroyed Part of a still was also unearthed Two brothers, young lads, were taken into custody and are in the Wilbarger jail. The officers remained at the place some time waiting for the owner to return, but he failed to appear

WANTS STENOGRAPHER IN POLICE COURT BEFORE GOING TO TRIAL IN CASE

J. Schuster, proprietor of the Drinketeria at 403 Scott street, who was arrested Thursday afternoon had his case in police court deferred until Saturday morning

The attorney for the defense was unwilling to proceed with the case until he could find a stenographer

"I wish to have a record of all testimony given in this case," the attorney for the defense told Judge Chauncey.

The court ruled that the stenographer would be allowed, but the attorney was unable to find one, and asked that the case be deferred His request was granted.

SCALES AND PUMPS AT GOREE FOUND CORRECT

GOREE, TEXAS, June 22—Cam Murray, state inspector of weights and measures, has just made an inspection of the scales and pumps used by the merchants and garages of Goree and states that he failed to find a single one that was not correct. He stated that this gives Goree the best record of any town in the state He also says that the crops in this part of Knox county are the best that he has seen in his travels during the past 30 days

ONLY TWO CASES HEARD IN POLICE COURT FRIDAY

The docket on the police court was very light Friday morning Only two cases were heard by Judge W B Chauncey and these brought only a total of $15 in fines A case of speeding drew a fine of $10 after the defendant had pleaded guilty of the charge. The other, a $5 fine, was assessed when Judge Chauncey found the defendant guilty of violating traffic regulations.

LOCAL CREAMERY PLANS TAKE FORM COUNCIL IS TOLD

Steady progress is being made toward organization of a company to firmly establish the creamery business in Wichita Falls, D. J. Carithers, who is heading the movement, told members of the business council of the chamber of commerce at the weekly luncheon Friday

Mr Carithers said that he had been at work recently organizing a new company to take over a creamery which closed not long ago, and that he had hopes of completing the organization soon.

The council recommended to the directors that Hubert M Harrison, general manager, be sent to the school for commercial executives to be held at Northwestern university in August The motion was made by J C Hunt, who, after paying a tribute to Mr Harrison's work, said that such schools were of genuine benefit and that it would be well worth the organization's while for the general manager to attend.

Reports ware made on the status of the fair organization and on the trade trip

There is a possibility that the Texas Clothiers' convention, scheduled to be held here in August, may go elsewhere on account of local hotel rates, Mr. Harrison reported The convention committee has the matter in hand

WRIST IS LACERATED WHEN FLUE SHEET FALLS UPON IT

W. L Garner, of 610 Jefferson street, drill pressman employed at the W R. B. Tool company, suffered a badly lacerated wrist Friday afternoon when a flue sheet on which he was working fell, striking him on the forearm

Employes of the company immediately rushed Garner to a physician's office, where eight stitches were taken in the injured arm

Doctors agreed that he would retain the use of his arm.

St. Louis Attorney States That His Own Experience With Tanlac Has Proved It To Be a Remarkably Excellent Medicine.

"I give Tanlac entire credit for the good health I now enjoy," said W. O Hall 104 Central National Bank Building, St Louis, Mo, well-known attorney

"I had influenza which left my entire system weakened I had no appetite and seemed to get no strength from the little I did eat. I was very nervous, could get no restful sleep and suffered from headaches and dizzy spells. I had such a pain in my side at times I couldn't draw a deep breath, and my back hurt so bad I had trouble getting out of my chair.

"However, my frist bottle of Tanlac gave me relief and four bottles have completely restored my health The good Tanlac has done me justifies me in saying it is a most remarkable medicine"

New Program at Majestic Pleases A Large Crowd

The R. E. Fox Stock company entertained another large and appreciative audience at the Majestic theater Thursday night, presenting a new bill, combining "What Women Will Do" with new vaudeville and music. The play is a pleasing story with a mixture of country and city life. The opening scenes are taken in the New England states and the plot drifts to New York city. The plot of the story is woven around the life of a millionaire banker, and some dramatic as well as humorous situations are developed during the progress of the play

The cast is exceptionally well balanced and Mr McIntosh again kept the crowd in a good humor with his clever comedy in the role of the country boy.

New vaudeville between acts added much to the entertainment of the evening and was greeted with hearty approval by those in attendance

"What Women Will Do" will be repeated Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday, with an entire change of program on Monday night

BIBLE CLASSES IN JOINT SESSION AT OLYMPIC SUNDAY

A thousand or more men are expected to gather at the Olympic theater Sunday morning when most of the men's Bible classes of local Sunday schools will hold a joint session as guests of the class of Judge John C. Kay of the First M. E church, South.

Classes from the First Presbyterian, First Baptist, First Christian and Floral Heights Methodist Sunday schools are expected to participate in the meeting.

Musical numbers will include an orchestra number, a quartette selection and a solo by Mrs. Louella B Thompson. The principal talk will be by Judge Kay

OVER $3000 OBTAINED FOR DICKSON ORPHANAGE; SINGERS RETURN FRIDAY

Rev. W. L. Dickson and his jubilee singers from the colored orphanage at Gilmer, Texas, will return home Friday night, a total of over $3,000 in cash and pledges being obtained during a ten days stay here.

The final concert will be given Friday night at Burkburnett, where, at the request of J G. Hardin, a joint meeting of the Baptist and Methodist congregations will be held in the Methodist church. The singers are planning a special program for the occasion.

They will return from Burkburnett in time to catch a train for home.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR $45,000 HOME NEAR IOWA PARK

Contract for the new home of W F. George, well known farmer of this county, has been awarded to Taylor Brothers of this city, who will start work shortly

The house will be erected on Mr George's place on the northern edge of Iowa Park, and will cost around $45,000. Voelcker and Dixon of this city are architects

Mr. George valiantly resisted inducements to make his home in Wichita Falls, preferring to remain near the soil where his fortune was acquired. When it became known that he was planning a new home, local real estate agents sought to interest him in Wichita Falls property, but without success

The house will be one of the most substantial in the county Mr George says that he will not be much further from Wichita Falls' business district that some folks in the city limits, at that.

REVIVAL SERVICES NORTH SIDE METHODIST CHURCH

On Thursday evening Rev R P Hines brought his heart rers a truly personal message at the revival services in the North Side Methodist church, using as his text Acts 1 8 "Ye shall be witnesses unto Me"

The call to service through testimony by the life and personal appeals in behalf of Christ's claims among the people was earnestly insisted upon by the preacher Each one of His followers is needed in the soul-winning business of the church and reward is sure and satisfying even here on the earth Witnesses each one will be, either to the glory of Christ, or else for the cause of unrighteousness

The inestimable value of a faithful witness in a case of court was pointed out, and correspondingly a true witness for the Master must prove of very great service to the kingdom of heaven on the earth

Many and interesting instances of such testimony were cited by the preacher out of the Holy Scriptures and from his own personal knowledge.

Rev. W. W Carleton of Bonita was present and offered prayer—W. A. BETTS, pastor, 602 Bridge street

IOWA PARK BANK STARTS MOVE FOR BETTER LIVESTOCK

A movement to promote the raising of better livestock in the country around Iowa Park has been inaugurated by the First National bank of that place, which has employed Eugene Birk, son of C Birk of north Iowa Park, as its special representative in the work

The bank will help finance farmers who wish to purchase better grades of livestock or who wish to start dairy herds, and will assist in every possible way the development of the livestock industry

Eugene Birk recently graduated from A. and M. college and is well versed in livestock matters He becomes a member of the bank's staff, and will devote his full time to the work

J Frank Boyd, president of the bank, started the movement in the belief that the indirect returns to the bank and to the community would make it well worth while

Can Your Garden Stuff Today

PEAS.

Peas are more difficult to can than most other vegetables and great care should be taken to have them very fresh and young They are best gathered in the early morning or when cool Peas should not stand after being shelled, they may be started cooking while breakfast is being prepared as many housewives prefer to do all their canning that way Hard ripe peas should not be canned with the tender ones, they should be sorted

Blanching is important If done properly it prevents a cloudy liquor makes the peas tenderer, and also removes some of the gluey substance which coats them Blanch from one to four minutes, depending on the maturity of the peas The blanching is done by putting the peas in a cheese cloth bag and plunging them in hot water for the time specified removing them and plunging them at once into cold water, which has been salted with a tablespoon of salt to a quart of water They should be removed from the cold water almost instantly

Drain the peas and pack in the jars to within half an inch of the top of the jar Don't make too full Add a teaspoonful of sugar and one-half teaspoon of salt to each pint on top the peas Fill with boiling water, let the bubbles work out a minute, place the rubbers and caps on the jars, but do not screw the caps down Cook in a container on the bottom of which a cloth has been folded or a false bottom put in, for three hours, if the peas are very small and tender. If medium sized, cook intermittently an hour a day for three days or cook under ten pounds pressure in the steam cooker.

Note: If there is any special recipe you wanted printed immediately, either for canning fruit or vegetables, making jelly or preserves, phone the Woman's Page Editor at The Times. Otherwise they will be used as selected in the office All recipes are from Miss Lillian Peak's Bulletin issued after three years of demonstration and experience in Texas.

Whom Shall Molly Marry?

Matinee Mol Makes Love—Hands and Hearts Are Dizzy With May Madness as the Handsome Actor Asks for Molly's Hand

(Second Installment)

By ZOE ZECKLEY

In the skiff Don opened his silk shirt at the throat and with the moonlight on his handsome features looked unbelievably like some figure in a romantic play

I just had to tell you first of all people, the glorious news'' he was saying I've accepted the lead in the Pittsburg Empire Stock company. Think of it, Molly! Four years ago I was playing tiny bits Two years ago I got leading parts here And now—Pittsburg! Twice the size of Midvale! I'm only 25 who knows but that two years from now it may be Broadway—my name in lights—then London money, fame!"

"Don' Oh how wonderful" Molly breathed imagination aglow "You lucky, lucky boy!"

At her words Don slipped to his knees before her

'Am I lucky" His voice was vibrant with feeling, thrilling Molly through and through her being "Tell me Don't you know that without you to share it, success won't mean a thing to me''

He caught her hands and kissed the palms

'Why Don'' She laughed rather breathlessly, trying to draw her hands away 'Really—honestly, I must say it stale and stupid as it sounds—not this—is—so sudden '

"Not to me!" His fervor lighted fires in her blood. "I've been wild about you, Molly for years Molly, sweet be my own girl, dear I do love you so—"

Molly put a hand over his lips

"Don stop'' She tried with coquetry to hide deep emotion. "This isn't a time to say such things—under a full moon, in May giddy with dancing How'll you feel tomorrow to realize you've asked a girl to be your wife—"

He had caught the hand at his lips and kissed it But at the word 'wife" he made ever so slight a movement, less than a start more a catching of the breath But to Molly it was quite perceptible and it seemed as though her heart had stopped beating and would never go on again Then with a rush, Don's emotion, stronger than he had counted on, swept him on, past calculation.

'Yes my wife'" he cried on a gasping breath "Tonight—next year—all life long I'll sing it—Molly, my little wife'"

Crushed to his breast his lips almost bruising hers Molly was swept past her momentary shock, away into an irresistible silent ecstacy of assent.

BUY YOUR CAKES 'N PIES WITH YOUR BEANS 'N CORN

Buy your cakes 'n pies n salads with your beans n peas n corn n tomatoes Saturday morning

The women of Division Nine of the First Christian Aid society will have a jucious assortment of all three, and some other things probably, at the Civic League Open Air Market on Eleventh and Scott Saturday morning

The market is open from about 8 30 to 9 o clock, and the cakes and pies and salads will be there about 7 o clock

OPEN AIR MARKET IS GROWING EVERY WEEK; SATURDAY A BIG DAY

The Civic League Growers Open Air Market—"Down-'t Th'-Market" for short is a growing institution, and every housekeeper who has the big-town appreciation of a market place where fresh things may be culled from the offerings of the producers themselves ought to be glad

The market place where the local growers gather is on the vacant lot at Eleventh and Scott and is open Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 8 30 to 9 It is pretty well crowded with buyers every open day right now and autos are sometimes parked way down and up the street with market baskets very much in evidence

The producers have everything home grown now in season—beans peas, okra, corn carrots, potatoes chickens, eggs butter, greens onions, plums, peaches etc The habit of doing their own marketing is growing on local housekeepers and the open air market gets more popular every week

MARRIAGE A LA MODE.

If we followed the custom of the Laplanders it is probable long engagements would become popular

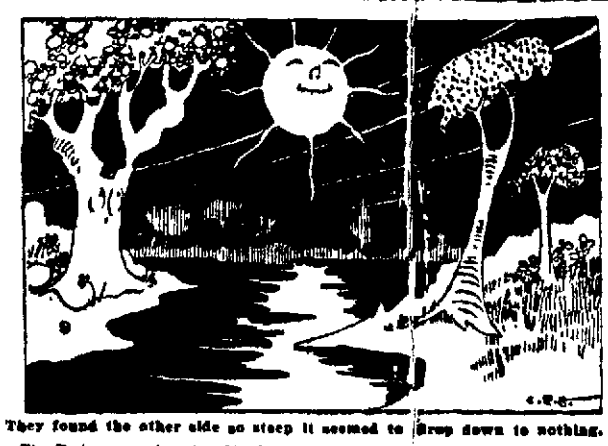
Whenever a suitor calls on his fiance he brings along a bottle of brandy for the girl's father

And even there where prohibition is unknown the father sometimes purposely postpones the wedding for a year or two

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

SPRINKLE-BLOW MINDS MOON AS TWINS SEEK PEERABOUT

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON



They found the other side so steep it seemed to drop down to nothing.

The Twins were hunting Mr Peerabout, the Man-in-the-Moon He was lost

They looked into his house, but he wasn't there

Then they went to Snoozeland Town and asked the Towsles (the little dream fairies), but they didn't know a thing

Next they went to Smokeysoot Village and asked the chimney fairies and the Sweep But no Moon-Man

Then they went to all the cities, the City of Ice, the City of Coral, and the City of Pearl, but nobody had seen him

Then suddenly one old fellow in the City of Pearl remembered something

Tother day I was taking a walk said he 'and I saw Mr. Peerabout talking to Comet-Legs on a mountain top After while I saw Comet Legs coming back alone '

'Which mountain was it'' asked Nancy. 'We'd better go up and see

"That one yonder," said the old fellow, pointing

Up in the mountain they climbed, and when they got to the top they found the other side so steep it seemed to drop down into nothing.

Nancy peered over Far, far below was the earth

'Nick ' she said 'I'll bet you anything Comet-Legs pushed Mr Peerabout off the moon and he's down on the earth this minute We'll have to go down and search for him"

Just then Pink returned from delivering a new dream to an earth baby

'Mr Peerabout's there' he said "I saw him "

OUR FIRST YEAR

CHAPTER LXX
JACK THREATENS TO BREAK WITH ME OVER PEARLS

By a Bride

"Fortunately for both of us, I can do as I like You'll see when it's over Jack dear I intend to go down tomorrow morning and pay our debts—and have enough left to live upon until you find what you want"

"Very well—so far as you are concerned, my dear But when it comes to spending Barnick's gift, you'll have to count me out'

"You mean—I'll have to choose between Barnick's offer—and you"' I stammered. "If I take—the money—I lose—you"'

Can't you see Peggins' Just living side by side isn't marriage You and I must see things alike or how can we be happy together '

'We thought we could We thought you could go your way and I mine We prided ourselves on being pioneers in a new and better kind of marriage."

"And now we find married life isn't so easy to make over,' said Jack 'Just now it seems to me like any other partnership In any combination of two human beings, one has got to have the final word

An obsolete theory' I put in "Quite different from our little scheme of equal rights equal duties and all that You are to play chess—and be gone any night—up to any hour—and I am not to care '

'And you were to play emotional theatre parts opposite a former suitor—and I was not to care. You could take long walks in the moonlight with the handsomest man we know and I was to keep still' Peggins I have kept still"

But—but— I stammered not at all understanding "you easily could be silent about that because—when—have I taken a moonlight stroll with any man handsome or not

'My dear girl Have you forgotten your journey back to nature in the pines with Hart Elliott" The first night of our motor tour

With Jack Madison' What are you talking about

Did it mean so little to you that you've forgotten' Well it means more to me I can't forget it You and the girls had gone to your rooms I went into the woods to smoke, couldn't sleep

I missed—you—parted from you—the first night I saw you and Hart in the moonlight—that tweed suit of yours and the gay red hat I couldn't comprehend thought I saw a ghost, went to your room and knocked Jeanne said you were not there '

The situation that night flashed before my mind's eye and aroused in me that queer bit of perverseness in my nature which makes me dumb when I am unjustly criticized I could not explain I would not defend myself Said I to Me

'Those pearls' I guess they've brought me as much bad luck as good

HELL REAL PLACE, NOT JUST PICTURE, SAYS EVANGELIST

Rev J H Knight, Thursday evening at the Floral Heights Baptist church, in delivering his sermon on "Hell—and Why I Do Not Want to Go There," said in part

"This place is so awful I can see it so real when I read the scriptures. I have not the least doubt as to the existence of such a place In this day in which we are living, this is not a pleasant story Nevertheless, this old world is running on a rapid gait down to hell

"I will give you two or three reasons for such a place There is a universal belief of the existence of such a place I believe of the existence of hell because of the common reason of justice If there were no hell, there would be no heaven If there were no place for the punishment of the ungodly, they would make hell out of heaven The most common argument is the teachings of the Bible

"The Bible describes the place with two terms Some people say that the references in the Bible are only figurative I learned in school that the figurative things are not as real as the things they so pictured The thing figured is always more real than the picture God have mercy on the man who says there is no hell and then goes there One of the terms used in the Bible is 'darkness' the other is fire' There are many references in the New Testament that I could take up, however, I am going to give you only three Revelation XX 14-15

"'Death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire And if any was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire' And Matthew XIII 41-42

"'The son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and them that do iniquity, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth Also Mark IX 47-49

"'If thine eye cause thee to stumble cast it out it is good for thee to enter into the Kingdom of heaven with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell, where the worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched For every one shall be salted with fire'

If this is figurative, then what must the reality be? Then there are several reasons why I do not want to go to hell First I don't want to go because I would have to butt in to get there I never did like to butt in and the Bible teaches that Hell is a place prepared for the devil and his angels' (Matthew XXV) You will have to become an angel of the devil if you go to hell Then there is the punishment of memory, (Luke 16) In Revelation 14 chapter we are told that whose worships the beast and the image he shall drink of the wrath of God I do not want to go to hell because of the company I will have to keep I am not above anybody in this world No man can go so low but what I could stoop down and help him out But I am not going to make such my daily companions Revelation 21-8 gives up a few of those who will be there adulterer unbelievers whoremongers and all liars and others

'But you don't have to spend eternity in this lake of fire There is one who is the light of the world He can keep you out of it The God of heaven, the Son of God can keep you out of that lake of fire

Everybody who will come Friday night and hear the opposite to this awful reality—'Heaven—and Why I Want to Go There" Services will be held in the open and will begin promptly at 8 00 o'clock

YOUNG PEOPLES' SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

On next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock the service at the First Baptist church will be in charge of the young people of the congregation

Rev O L. Powers announces that this service will be one of the unusual kind and that there will be many special features connected with it He says:

"This will be the first of the series of services which will be conducted by our young people throughout the year. Special music will be rendered, both vocal and instrumental. If you want to get' real inspiration hear these young folks Sunday night in their program which will last only 30 minutes Following I will deliver a 15-minute special on 'Thou Shalt Be a Blessing'

"With our well-ventilated church and twenty revolving electric fans, nobody need hesitate because of the summer weather If you men are extremely warm-natured, join ranks with the coatless brigade and come.

"Choir Director Ray has returned from the Shriner's convention, San Francisco, and announces special music for all services of the church."

Mrs Emma Nevans of Lometa Texas, is visiting in the homes of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. McCulley, and grand-daughter, Mrs A. L. Proctor

Rodney Lee, son of Mrs J W Lee of Long Beach, Cal., is visiting Elton Felder at the C B. Felder home, 1109 Burnett.

JUDGE WILSON IS DISQUALIFIED TO SIT IN TEN CASES

Judge H R. Wilson of the 30th district court, former district attorney of the same jurisdiction, is disqualified to sit on the bench in ten criminal cases The judge made a check up on his docket Thursday night and found that he was not qualified to try that number

The list of ten was submitted to Governor Pat Neff for disposition Inasmuch as Judge Wilson was disqualified to sit in the cases he was not qualified to have the cases transferred

It is believed that the governor will instruct either Judge Martin or Judge Napier to exchange benches with Judge Wilson when these cases are tried

CASINGS ARE STOLEN FROM FORD IN FRONT OF HOUSE

While the Ford car of R Hyden 2155 Avenue F. was parked in front of his home Thursday night, someone removed two nearly new Goodyear casings from the wheels on the side opposite from the house, while the family was at home

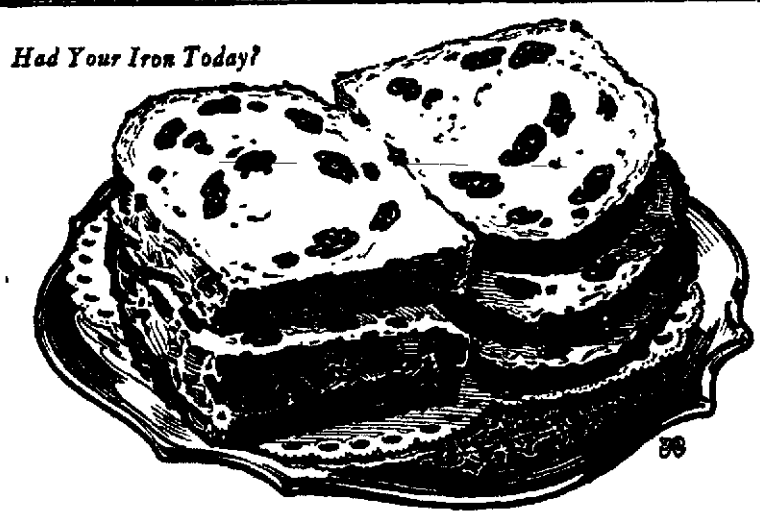
CRITICISM OF ALIEN PROPERTY CUSTODIAN BY REPRESENTATIVE

WASHINGTON, June 23—Introduced by Representative Woodruff, republican Michigan, with the declaration that charges of mal-administration, discrimination and payment of excessive attorneys' fees by the office of the alien property custodian have been so frequent they "cannot be ignored without grave injury to good name of our country," a resolution was pending in the house today proposing a congressional investigation

Charging on the floor yesterday that the aggregate value of the properties held by the custodian as shown by his latest report "was nearly a quarter of a billion dollars less than we might reasonably expect to find there," Mr Woodruff asserted that only an impartial investigation would disclose the cause of this 'shrinkage'

Mr Woodruff's speech was followed by a prompt denial by Thomas Miller the alien property custodian, of charges that disproportionate fees had been paid to attorneys, that trusts had been disposed of at unreasonable prices and that there had been discrimination in the release of enemy property while that to which title is held by American citizens remain sequestered If any mistakes had been made under his incumbency, he said he stood ready to rectify such as were brought to his attention

Had Your Iron Today?



That Delicious Bread
—of Energy and Iron

SERVE raisin bread twice weekly on your table for three reasons:

1. Flavor; 2. Energy; 3. Iron

You remember how good a generously filled, full-fruited raisin bread can be. Your grocer can supply a loaf like this.

Insist—if he hasn't one he can get it for you.

Full-fruited bread is full of luscious seeded Sun-Maid raisins—rich in energizing nutriment in practically predigested form.

Raisins also furnish fatigue-resisting iron for the blood.

Serve plain raisin bread at dinner or as a tasty fruited breakfast toast with coffee.

Make delicious bread pudding with left-over slices. No need to waste a crumb of raisin bread.

Begin this week the habit of raisin bread twice weekly in your home, for raisin bread is both good and good for you.

WHERE DELICACY COUNTS

You are always safe in using Mrs. Tucker's Shortening, and that replies to a query I received the other day in regard to plum pudding Mrs. Tucker's Shortening is truly the proper cooking fat here, for the elusive flavor of plum pudding cannot be captured if coarse animal fats are used You are safe with MRS TUCKER'S, the purely vegetable shortening, for it is just rich enough and imparts no flavor of it own.

FRIDAY, JUNE 23 1922

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Fret not thyself because of evil-doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity For they shall soon be cut down, and wither as the green herb.—Psalm 37:1 2.

Wicked thoughts and worthless efforts gradually set their mark upon the face, especially the eyes —Schopenhauer

ON RELIGIOUS LIBERTY.

There are some folks who seriously propose to make every immigrant to America embrace the Christian religion as a condition of entrance

There are some folks in Texas, who in order to strike at certain religious organizations, would have a law enacted to make attendance, not upon some school, but upon the public school, compulsory

There are some folks who would proscribe those of a faith different from their own

The spirit of intolerance and religious hatred is being fomented by a widespread propaganda

It seems the time to turn back and review the lessons of history; it seems time to go back to the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States

Men of faith founded this nation Men of faith wrote the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. There were Christians—Protestant and Catholic—and Jews and men affiliated with no religious organizations among them

The Constitution of the United States says

'Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof"

The Constitution of the State of Texas says

"No religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust in this state, nor shall any one be excluded from holding office on account of his religious sentiments, provided he acknowledge the existence of a Supreme Being," and "all men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience No man shall be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship, or to maintain any ministry against his consent. No human authority ought, in any case, whatever, to control or interfere with the rights of conscience in matters of religion, and no preference shall ever be given by law to any society or mode of worship"

There are many who will observe the letter of these, but who would violate its spirit. If the letter is good is not the spirit of them also?

The editor of the Waco Times Herald, who is deeply and patriotically learned in American history and in the Constitution, in discussing this subject of religious freedom, says

"Thomas Jefferson wrote the American Declaration of Independence, assisted, as we believe, by Thomas Paine Much has been said about the religious beliefs of these two men; it is enough to say that each had a profound and reverent belief in a Supreme Being, a Being who could bless and prosper the people

"In the Declaration of Independence the assertion is made that all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness

"In all of Mr Jefferson's writings we find that liberty in religion and liberty of person are specifically insisted upon

"Thomas Jefferson was twice elected President of the United States, and in his first inaugural address 'freedom of religion' is mentioned as an 'essential principle', in a letter to Elbridge Gerry is made the declaration, 'I am for freedom of religion, and against all maneuvers to bring about a legal ascendancy of one sect over another', and all men that visit the patriot's tomb are reminded that he was the 'author of the Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom'

"Mr. Jefferson insisted upon liberty of person no less strongly. He demanded 'freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus,' specifying that government 'shall leave men free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement,' and in order that the several rights of life, of person, of property, of privilege, should not be unjustly abridged, he was careful to insist upon another specific right, to-wit The right of 'trial by juries impartially selected'

"The Waco Times Herald through all the years of its existence has tried to plumb that line—the line that stresses the importance of the individual, the unit of society, in the scheme of things

"The Waco Times Herald can not conceive of permanence in a democracy that violates the Jeffersonian principles, there must be liberty in religion and liberty of person, neither sect nor society can properly invade this realm

"Bear in mind, these are not new preachments with the Waco Times Herald, in calm and in storm the paper has insisted on fidelity to the principle that all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, to secure which governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed

"Liberty in religion and liberty of person constitute in reality one principle, you can't take the one and leave the other—they rise or fall together Some there be, we fear, who want liberty in religion, but not liberty of person, while other some want liberty of person, but not liberty in religion, and this is to confuse one's thinking and to contradict one's practices.

"In the midst of every tumult, the Waco Times Herald has kept its eye steadily fixed on the pole star, the Declaration of Independence

"'These principles,' said Mr. Jefferson, 'form the bright constellation which has gone before us, and guided our steps through an age of revolution and reformation, and should we wander from them in moments of error or alarm, let us hasten to retrace our steps and to regain the road which alone leads to peace, liberty, and safety'."

TODAY'S TALK

YOUR HIDDEN FRIENDS.

Your greatest possibilities for added happiness in this world lie in your opportunities for new friends

Every time you walk down the street—in every person you pass—are these hidden friends present

And you never know at what hour, under what circumstance, some hidden friend may be revealed to you

Much is said about the old friend But it must be remembered that every old friend was once a very new friend

I like to feel that each one of us is all the time sending out silent messages from these personal ties of ours, and that they are finding lodgment in many a stray heart, that we may never have communicated with before

Walt Whitman in his daily journal tells of seeing Abraham Lincoln out for his walk in Washington, and of how the President often bowed and smiled to him as he passed And though no words were spoken, Whitman seemed to catch many a divine message of cheer and inspiration from the face and eyes of that burdened man.

The very person whom you may have sneered at or criticised for some imagined reason as you passed him, may have been nurturing a garden of beauty in his soul for your own great growth—if you but knew.

We should keep the shades of our hearts well up so that every ray of love and sunshine can creep in, to keep us warm

In this manner may we become the hidden friend for someone else

Could a greater privilege come to you?

THE CARPET ON THE STAIRS.

Let others sing in modern ways, it's joy enough for me
To sing in good old fashioned rhyme the days that used to be
The page of boyhood's scribbled full with things we used to do,
The fun we had, the games we played, the little tasks we knew,
And back to mind there comes today the hardest of our cares,
That springtime job of putting down the carpet on the stairs

Housecleaning time meant weary legs and hands and aching backs,
For no more tedious job there is than driving carpet tacks
Then mother told us what to do, and on our hands and knees
We stretched and hauled and pulled and tugged and did our best to please,
But, oh! I well remember now one task which patience wears,
That awkward muscle straining job of carpeting the stairs

We'd start upon the topmost step and let the carpet roll,
But then began a feat of strength to try the bravest soul
The corners must be folded so and stretched and firmly tacked,
With mother watching every move as down the stairs we backed,
And many a time we've reached the end, discovering there and then
It wouldn't do at all that way and must be laid again

No more we break our finger nails and set our knees on fire
In stretching carpets on the floors, no more our muscles tire,
No more the mother stands above our bended forms to see
That every tack is driven home the way it ought to be
The times are very different now and no one ever shares
The joy and pain of long ago, while carpeting the stairs

OPEN PORES

By DR R H BISHOP

One of the healthiest things you can do in summer is to sweat profusely

People hardly realize what a great work perspiring does for the human system and the number of ills prevented by the continuous working of the human body's two and a half million sweat glands

You normally perspire continuously, both in summer and winter Except in warm weather however the moisture is exhaled from the body in the form of vapor and hence is invisible

The chief purpose of sweating is to regulate the body's temperature though it also serves as a sub sewage system for the disposal of poisonous waste matter which is not taken care of by the kidneys When the sweat glands are not functioning properly there is a greater strain on the kidneys a rise in temperature to fever heat and less resistance to disease Likewise when the bowels are not working properly the sweat glands are called upon to do overtime work and sickness may result

To keep the sweat glands working well take plenty of baths Warm baths are especially good to keep the pores open and the glands working One must be careful after warm baths however, to avoid catching cold

Light, loose clothing should be worn in hot weather so as to give the sweat glands full play

Drink a lot of water too In warm weather it is almost impossible to drink too much water Ten or 12 glasses a day are not too many

GLANDS

A 'secret operation' is performed on Harold F McCormick by Dr Lespinasse, the dean of gland transplanters

The operation excites public curiosity for gland transplanting is an effort to prolong youth That is something we all yearn for Lurking in the back of our brains is the hope that gland transplanting will prove successful so we can try it ourselves

Following the work of men like Lespinasse, we marvel at the wonders of modern surgery

But do not expect too much Dr James H Breasted, of University of Chicago, discovers in old manuscripts that transplanting of glands to stave off old age was attempted 3 000 or more years ago by skilled Egyptian doctors A lot of time has passed but practically nothing has been accomplished

HOOKWORM

Can hookworm the laziness disease be cured by carbon tetrachloride? It seems so according to evidence from Ceylon and the Fiji islands where thousands of hookworm cases have been treated with success in nearly all cases

Research work along this line was started by the discoveries of an American—Dr Maurice C Hall, of the department of agriculture

Part of the honor goes to a condemned criminal in the Bogambra prison at Kandy Ceylon, who was the first volunteer as a subject for experiments A post mortem after his execution showed that the hookworm cure in his case was complete

Carbon tetrachloride is very cheap If it proves to be a real cure Hall's discovery will be of infinite value Millions of people have hookworm Others act like it

The Zulu system will shock the moral standards of many Zulus however inflict the death penalty for flirting with a married woman On the average maybe Zulu morals stack up close to the white man's

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY.

Today's word is fillibuster

Its pronounced—fil i bus-ter with accent on the first and again more strongly on the second syllable

Originally it was applied to the buccaneers who in early days infested the Spanish American coast Later it was used to describe participants in hostile expeditions into countries with which their own country was at peace It still has this meaning In general it signifies an irregular irresponsible military adventurer a member of a predatory band" From this last meaning it has been twisted to apply to members of a legislative body who though in a minority undertake to prevent or obstruct majority action by dilatory tactics

It comes from —Dutch vrijbuiter free and buit loot combined in the words 'vrijbuiten to plunder and vrijbuiter freebooter

It is used like this—'To checkmate the fillibusters who are threatening to delay action on the tariff soldiers bonus and ship subsidy measures the administration forces are discussing adoption of gag rule in the United States senate'

CHAPTER VI

It was on a horse hired from the Breton Arme that Andre Louis set out next morning and an hour's brisk ride brought him to the city of Rennes.

He rode into the upper and principal part of that important city of some thirty thousand souls and came at last to the Place Royale where he found the crowd to be most dense From the plinth of the equestrian statue of Louis XV a white faced young man was excitedly addressing the multitude His youth and dress proclaimed the student and a group of his fellows acting as a guard of honor to him kept the immediate precincts of the statue

Over the heads of the crowd Andre-Louis caught a few of the phrases flung forth by that eager voice

It was the promise of the King * * * It is the King's authority they flout * * * They arrogate to themselves the whole sovereignty in Brittany The King has dissolved them * * * These insolent nobles defying their sovereign and the people * * *

Had he not known already of the events which had brought the Third Estate to the point of active revolt those few phrases would fully have informed him This popular display of temper was most opportune to his need he thought He put up his hired horse at the Corne de Cerf, and set out to the Palais de Justice

That the King's lieutenant condescended to see him at all was probably due to the grave complexion of the hour At last he was ushered into a fine well lighted room furnished with enough gilt and satin to have supplied the boudoir of a lady of fashion

It was a trivial setting for a King's Lieutenant but about the King's Lieutenant there was—at least to ordinary eyes—nothing trivial At the far end of the chamber before a goat-legged writing table with Wateau panels sat that exalted being Above a scarlet coat with an order flaming on its breast and a billow of lace in which diamonds sparkled like drops of water sprouted the massive powdered head of M de Lesdiguieres It was thrown back to scowl with expectant arrogance

M de Lesdiguieres considered him very sternly

What is your name? he asked

Andre Louis Moreau

'Well, Andre Louis Moreau, if you can state your plea briefly I will hear you

You shall be the judge of that monsieur said Andre Louis and he proceeded at once to state his case beginning with the shooting of Maboy and passing thence to the killing of M de Vilmorin But he withheld until the end the name of the great gentleman against whom he demanded justice

And who sir is the man you charge with this"

'The Marquis de La Tour d Azyr'

'Who?" he shouted, and without waiting for an answer Why, here's impudence he stormed on "to come before me with such a charge against a gentleman of M de La Tour d Azyr's eminence How dare you speak of him as a coward * * *

I speak of him as a murderer the young man corrected And I demand justice against him

'You demand it do you? My God what next?

"I have informed you monsieur, that a duel—so called—has been fought and a man killed It seems that I must remind you the administrator of the King's justice, that duels are against the law and that it is your duty to hold an inquiry'

The door behind Andre-Louis opened softly M. de Lesdiguieres pale with anger, contained himself with difficulty

"You seek to compel us do you you impudent rascal? he growled But I give you a last warning master lawyer keep a closer guard over that insolent tongue of yours or you will have cause very bitterly to regret its glibness He waived a jeweled contemptuous hand To the door!'

CHAPTER VII

He had broken his futile lance with the windmill—the image suggested by M de Kercadiou persisted in his mind—and it was he perceived by sheer good fortune that he had escaped without hurt There remained the wind itself—the whirlwind And the events in Rennes reflex of the graver events in Nantes had set that wind blowing in his favor

He set out briskly to retrace his steps toward the Place Royale where the gathering of the populace was greatest

There were cries To the Palais! Down with the assassins Down with the nobles!"

An artisan who stood shoulder to shoulder with him in the press enlightened Andre-Louis on the score of the increased excitement

'They've shot him dead His body is lying there where it fell at the foot of the statue And there was another student killed not an hour ago by the cathedral works Pardi If they can't prevail in one way they'll prevail in another

Andre-Louis left him still talking and clove a way through that human press

At the statue's base he came upon a little cluster of students about the body of the murdered lad all stricken with fear and helplessness

'You here Moreau said a voice

He looked round to find himself confronted by Le Chapelier a lawyer of Rennes a prominent member of the Literary Chamber of that city

'Ah it is you Chapelier Why don't you tell them what to do? Up with you man And he pointed to the plinth

Le Chapelier's dark restless eyes searched the other's impassive voice for some trace of iron he suspected

"Your notions and mine on that score can hardly coincide said he

Andre-Louis looked at him without surprise How should Le Chapelier suspect his present intentions?

If you won't tell them what is to be done, I will said he

Nom de Dieu! If you want to invite a bullet from the other side I shall not hinder you

Scarcely were his words out than he repented them for as if in answer to that challenge Andre Louis sprang up on to the plinth Alarmed now for he could only suppose it to be Andre-Louis intention to speak on behalf of Privilege Le Chapelier clutched him by the legs to pull him down again

Ah that no' he was shouting Come down you fool Come down'

Andre Louis maintaining his position by clutching one of the legs of the bronze horse flung his voice like a bugle note over the heads of that seething mob

Citizens of Rennes the motherland is in danger

The effect was electric A stir ran like a ripple over water across that froth of upturned human faces and completest silence followed

'Shuddering in honor of the vile deed hero perpetrated my voice demands to be heard by you You have seen murder done under your eyes—the murder of one who nobly without any thought of self gave voice to the wrongs by which we are all oppressed Fearing that voice shunning the truth as foul things shun the light our oppressors sent their agents to silence him in death

Le Chapelier relaxed at last his hold of Andre Louis ankle staring up at him the while in sheer amazement What had come to him"

Of assassins what shall you look for but assassination? I have a tale to tell which will show that this is no new thing that you have witnessed here today it will reveal you the forces with which you have to deal Yesterday * * *

There was an interruption a voice in the crowd sure twice perhaps was raised to shout

Yes another of them

Immediately after the voice came a pistol shot and a bullet flattened itself against the bronze figure just behind Andre Louis

IF STRIKE IS VOTED HEARING OVER SHOP CONTRACTS IS OFF

EMPLOYES WILL NOT PROSECUTE THIRTY CASES ON MONDAY.

CHARGE THAT ROADS IGNORE BOARD RULING

"The Time For Action Has Come," Says Secretary of Federation Department.

CHICAGO June 23 — Thirty charges against a score of railroads for alleged illegal contracting of railway labor to avoid wage orders of the United States railroad labor board may go without prosecution next Monday when the cases are called if the results of the shopmens strike vote is determined before that date

The shop workers are now voting on a triple barrelled strike proposition including the questionof farming out car and locomotive shops to contractors By this practice the employes claim they are deprived of their seniority rights since they cease to be in the employ of the railroad lose their pass privileges rates of pay and working conditions established by road agreements and by the labor board

If the vote shows a majority in favor of striking over this question the employes will have no further interest in the case and will not appear before the board according to John P Scott secretary of the employes department of the American Federation of Labor

One contract decision has already been rendered by the board—that of the Indiana Harbor Belt—in which contracting was held to be in violation of the transportation act and the board's orders Despite this order which the board said would apply in principle to all other contracting roads work has continued to be farmed out according to the employes charge

"The board has had its chance and the roads have gone ahead violating the contracting decision" said Mr Scott The time for action has come

BANKER URGES THE CANCELLATION OF THE FOREIGN DEBTS

By Associated Press

ST LOUIS June 23—The United States should take its part in readjusting world affairs and to do this it is not necessary to cancel the $11,000 000 000 foreign debt declared Thomas B McAdams Richmond Va. president of the American Bankers association in an address before the Illinois Bankers association today in convention here

"George Washington's statement against entangling alliances was unquestionably right at the time the policy was promulgated Mr McAdams said but this policy now undoubtedly is completly out of date He asserted that during the past century the United States definitely has been brought into close contract with the world, established a mutual interest in the world's commercial welfare, which was so essential to progress and so tied us together as to make our successes and failures largely dependent on world conditions—world ideals

"Our future commercially challenges us not to throw away our opportunity for suggestive leadership our progress at home and abroad calls up to see that the principle of consideration of the rights of others be incorporated as our international policy

Symptoms Indicated Need of Black Draught, Which South Carolina Lady Took "and Felt Much Better."

Townville S C—Describing the benefits she has obtained from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught Mrs J T Royster who resides on Route 2 recently said

Last year I began to feel weak and worn out like I was going to get down in bed I was constipated My stomach was out of order

I had indigestion and was bilious Would get dizzy

I didn't feel like doing my work I ate very little yet it didn't seem to set well

I began to look around for a remedy My husband had taken Thedford's Black Draught and found it so satisfactory I decided to take it too

I took big doses at first then smaller It regulated my bowels and cleaned off my liver and I felt much better

Constipation is known to lead to much sickness among those who do not understand its dangers and who neglect to treat it promptly It is often a sign that your liver is out of order and needs help When bothered with constipation indigestion, biliousness due to derangement of the liver, take Thedford's Black Draught

Black Draught has proved a valuable remedy for liver troubles for over seventy years and is used by thousands of people with satisfactory results

REPORT MINE WAR IS UNDER CONTROL

at the bottom of a pond No one seemed inclined to drag the pond No searching parties have been organized to seek bodies in the woods

Many Ghoul Slaughter.

All reports whether from miners or from strikebreakers or mine operators agree that the killings were a massacre—that the victims were shot down in cold blood after they had put up the flag and surrendered themselves and their arms to the attacking forces Many persons in the county uphold the slaughter as a rightful act of judgment Citizens gathering on the street corners last night and today laughed and joked over the affair and proudly boasted that 'some of these days people will realize that it doesn't pay to try to break a strike in Williamson county"

In the morgue women and children as they passed through commented on the accuracy of the slayers who brought down the victims

Men who openly boast that they were in the attacking force related with apparent pride the stories of what in wartimes would be called brutality The story of the attack on C K McDowell, strike breakers superintendent, was related by many McDowell with only one leg was beaten to death with stones before being riddled with bullets according to persons who say they were eyewitnesses

He refused to march with the other prisoners who were tied together and told to run down the road between lines of attackers who poured buckshot rifle and pistol bullets into them as they fled saying that he'd just as soon die where he was, He died where he was said to have made this statement

The mine was looted and one man with some $1 500 in bills stood with a semi circle of men around him and dealt out the bills like cards according to wounded men who were there

See Wounded Kicked About.

The correspondent saw men wounded almost to death kicked around in the scorching sun in dusty roads He saw men chased through fields like rabbits by shouting persons who opened fire once catching him accidentally between two fires Surrounded by armed men he saw a knife plunged into the throat of a wounded man who in his dying breath gave this plea In the name of my mother In the name of your mother, in the name of our God, give me water, only to receive laughs and jibes such as 'Where you're going you won't see water' as a reply

Mothers carried babies into the morgues and up to piles of bodies in the roads with such remarks as Take a look at what your papa did kid'

The correspondent watched a man walk to the bedside of a dying man and curse him and jeer him as he breathed his last Through it all although the fight area was traversed a dozen times there was not a word heard of sympathy for a victim The sentiment seemed to be that strikebreakers deserved slaughter and that they had received it

Few of the dead could be positively identified Most of them had been rifled of all effects After lying piled in the morgues yesterday they were embalmed last night Scores watched the process all through the night making unprintable comemnts about bodies

That today would bring official action of some kind was undoubted That this action would bring little in the way of results was the prediction of most everyone in touch with the situation

Sarcastic Comment.

The order of Governor Small last night to hold 1 000 men of the militia in readiness in Chicago was greeted on the streets here with sarcastic comment A member of the police force told the correspondent that if the troops were sent here he'd take the night police force and clean them out Inquiry developed that he was the night police force himself

The request of the governor for an official report brought more sarcasm the gist of which seemed to be that there was nothing to report officially

Official statements were scarce Everyone talked of the fight and many freely related their own experience yet none even knew of it —officially The killed simply "dropped dead" it was explained when official statements were asked No one was murdered, it was said—officially It was remarked that there had been 27 killings here since January 1

Early this morning several newspaper men were privately informed that plans were afoot to burn a number of mines which in previous years had troubles The correspondents were told to go to a certain mine at 1 o'clock this morning and they would see what was termed a "party Many automobiles carrying men passed in the direction of the mine named but there was no fire and no trouble

All that remains of the Lester mine is a heap of ashes for it was set on fire shortly after the attackers captured it Mr Lester, the owner, was reported to have come here from Chicago but no one had been able to find him this morning Early this morning Sheriff Thaxton told newspaper men that the situation was well in hand and that there was no danger That was the only official statement in the early hours of the day

TWO MEN ARE KILLED WHEN MOB ATTACKS CAR

CLARKSBURG W VA, June 23—Two men were killed, a deputy sheriff suffered a broken arm and a dozen other persons suffered minor injuries when a mob attacked an interurban traction car carrying non-union miners and officers of the Hudson Coal company guarded by deputy sheriffs from this city to the Lewis mine near Reynoldsville this morning The mob stopped the car, pulled off the trolley and swarmed aboard Two of the attacking party were shot as they crawled through windows The mine was opened on an open shop basis Monday

SPIRITED OUT OF TOWN AND TOLD TO "BEAT IT"

WEST FRANKFORT ILL June 23—One of the strikebreakers who escaped the massacre at Herrin was located here early today when he entered a pool room without hat or coat A crowd gathered but the local police took charge of him spirited him out of town for a few miles and told him to beat it"

Quite a crowd had gathered but the prompt action of the officers prevented a tense situation from becoming dangerous

The police said the man stated his name was Thompson and that he was from Peoria

UNABLE TO ACCOUNT FOR OUTBREAK AT THE MINE

CHICAGO June 23—W J Lester president of the Southern Illinois Coal company owners of the Herrin mine where the massacre of non union workmen took place yesterday declared here today he could not account for the outbreak at the mine and that his chief concern now was to care for the families of the victims

Mr Lester said he started for Herrin yesterday but was persuaded it was too late for him to do anything and returned to his hotel here On his return he found his wife in a nervous collapse and he himself looks appeared visibly shaken by the news of the disorders

SINISTER INFLUENCES ARE BLAMED FOR DISTURBANCES

CINCINNATI June 23—John L Lewis in a statement here today declared the United Mine Workers of America is not to any degree responsible for the unfortunate occurrence at Herrin Ill He said the organization of which he is president never encouraged or condoned lawlessness

Sinister influences Mr Lewis declared had been at work among the miners to incite and inflame the spirit of violence" coal companies, he asserted had employed thousands of detectives to work among striking miners

FOUR MEXICANS FORCED TO LEAVE TOWN BY MOB

WEST FRANKFORT ILL June 23—Four Mexicans believed to have been members of the band of strikebreakers operating the strip mines of the Southern Coal company near Herrin who were found loitering near the railroad station here this morning were forced to leave town by a mob of several hundred men One of the quartet apparently committed suicide

After the presence of the four men became known a mob quickly formed and started the four out of town Near the Chicago and Eastern Illinois coal chutes, a short distance out of town the mob dispensed One of the Mexicans who became terrified climbed to the top of the coal chute about 50 feet high and leaped to the ground His neck was broken and several other bones in his body were also shattered The name of the men could not be learned

HIGHEST WATER ON RECORD AT MISSION; CREST IS EXPECTED

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS June 23—With the flood menace apparently removed from the Rio Grande City territory where the Rio Grande was reported rapidly receding this morning interest turned to Mission and the district from there which today was experiencing the highest water on record Mission reported at 8 30 this morning that the river was 28 1 feet above normal and about six inches higher than the record set Sunday in the primary rise The crest is expected to pass there today

No further damage was expected at McAllen San Juan and Donna reports said Dikes and levees at Mercedes and vicinity were reported holding well

However water which was turned north from the Mercedes LaFaria-Harlingen irrigation districts this morning, was reported to be within three miles of Raymondville Willacy county 50 miles north of Brownsville

The situation at Brownsville remains normal with the river still within banks Matamoros, Mexico proper also was saved from partial inundation by dynamiting by military authorities of 300 feet of railroad track which was banking up waters on the levee which surrounds the town

FORMER CHINESE MINISTER TO U. S. DIES AT CANTON

By Associated Press

SHANGHAI, June 23.—Wu Ting Fang, former minister to Washington, more recently foreign minister for Sun Yat Sen in the disrupted southern republican government at Canton, died at Canton this morning, according to a Reuter dispatch

Wu, an outstanding leader in the politics and jurisprudence of China for many years, remained, at last reports, loyal to Sun Yat Sen, and was believed to have fled to Canton with the deposed south China president. The Reuter dispatch gave no details.

DR SUN YAT SEN ON ONE OF HIS WARSHIPS

AMOY, CHINA, June 23—Dr Sun Yat Sen, deposed president of the south China republic, is aboard one of his own warships at Canton Negotiations are proceeding for his departure His wife reported a prisoner, has escaped into Hong Kong This information was telegraphed here from Canton

Bombardment of Canton has ceased with the refusal of gunners of Sun Yat Sen's navy to continue All shops are closed American gunboats were requested but will not be sent Officers of General Chen Chiung Ming conqueror of Canton maintains Sun Yat Sen was responsible for the renewed fighting but Sun claims the bombardment resulted from his forced leave and the treachery of subordinates

Chen Chiung Ming's troops are advancing north along the railway and river to intercept Sun Yat Sen's troops

Pipe Smoking by Young Women Is New London Fad

LONDON June 23—London's smart young women have introduced pipe smoking at restaurants and cafes The pipes usually are small and of rich briar or meerschaum with slender stems and gold rings Virginia tobacco flavored with tartar of roses or some oriental perfume is favored

The girls say they prefer pipe smoking to cigarettes because it is cooler and cleaner and doesn't stain the fingers as cigarettes do

WATERS BREAK INTO STREETS OF HIDALGO

MERCEDES TEXAS June 23—The waters of the Rio Grande broke into the streets of Hidalgo at 6 o'clock this morning according to reports from there but a depth of not more than two or three feet is expected and no great damage will be done

The water is reported about a foot higher at McAllen than it has been before in the present overflow and is rising at the rate of two inches an hour there The crest is believed to be between Mission and Brownsville

In 7 days the most popular colors of paints are blue green light green and red

A mangle seen near a dwelling in McAllen is believed to portend death to one of its inmates

Munson's Pinch Hit In Eleventh Chapter Gives Crabs A Clean Sweep

GALVESTON, TEXAS, June 22—The Spudders were not a bit sorry when they left the Island City last night as the Sand Crabs' 3 to 2 victory Thursday in 11 innings gave them a clean sweep of the series, the first time this season that the Salmites have bowed in every game. The game was just as close as the score indicates as both Ruth and Perryman were in great form and accorded airtight support in the pinches. The Wichitans, however, went to pieces in the eleventh round when, after permitting a single and issuing two passes, he sent one down pinch hitter Joe Munson's alley which Joe pasted for a single and broke up the contest.

Fred Beck's eleventh home run of the current campaign accounted for the only two runs chalked up by the Spudders. They were trailing the home boys until the eighth canto when Fred dropped another baseball in the Gulf of Mexico with Tex McDonald aboard. The Wichitans threw away numerous chances to score by failing to hit in the pinches. Ten invaders were left stranded on the paths and six of these were in the fifth and sixth innings.

Bischoff was left on first in the opening round. Kitchens was left on the same station in the second. Bischoff fanned with Ruth on third in the third, Beck and White left Summa on second in the fourth, Summa left the bags jammed in the fifth while in the sixth Kitchens and Ruth left the corners congested. In the seventh, ninth, tenth and eleventh, the Salmites went out in order.

Galveston broke the ice in the second when Brown walked, stole second, took third on Thrash's infield out and counted on Witry's single. They annexed another in the fifth on Witry's triple and a perfect squeeze by Distel.

McDonald singled in the eighth after Summa had been retired and walked around when Beck parked the sphere in the Gulf.

After Elbel had been disposed of in the eleventh, it looked like another inning would have to be played, but Brown slapped a single to left while Thrash and Witry ambled. Pat Newnam then sent Munson in to hit for Perryman and Joe delivered the blow which won. The box score:

LEONARD HAS NOTHING TO LOSE—BRITTON EVERYTHING

JACK BRITTON BENNY LEONARD

At the New York Veldrome, on June 26, Jack Britton, veteran of boxers and champion of the welterweights, will be called upon to make the fight of his life.

He mixes it with Benny Leonard, chief cook of the lightweights, in a 15-round decision bout for the welter title.

Twice before they have met, once in New York and again in Philadelphia. There was no argument about the first melee, it was Bennah's, but the Quakertown scramble was disputed loudly by Jack.

Leonard Can't Lose.

Leonard has everything to gain and nothing to lose. He can't lose his championship and Britton can Brit is the willing fighter.

Leonard is a terrific hitter. Britton faces one of the worst fighters in the ring with a record for stringing the kayos.

Jack is one of the hardest men to lay a blow on that ever resined a foot. He is always stepping from a blow just at the junction. He isn't a heavy hitter, but the continuous wag of the head and his ring smartness have kept the welters from swinging him to the mat.

The chances are that Brit will not outweigh the light king to any degree. He will have to worry about the 147 mark. Leonard's overweight has always been a matter of discussion.

No lightweight has ever worn the welter crown and if Bennah does connect he will be one of the most popular boxers in the game.

He could let the 133 title slide gracefully and make the welter poundage much easier.

EVANS SAYS TEAM WHICH BEATS GIANTS WILL WIN NATIONAL LEAGUE FLAG

By BILLY EVANS

The team that beats the New York Giants will win the pennant in the National league.

That is substance is the prediction of all the baseball experts prior to the opening of the season.

On the showing of the clubs so far in the race that opinion still holds good. As a matter of fact, the work covering the first third of the race has strengthened the belief.

In only one respect have the Giants disappointed so far—on the road. At the Polo Grounds McGraw's club has been unbeatable (in the road it has been only a so-so aggregation.

The Giants have a great ball club it ranks with the old-time star aggregations like the Cubs and Athletics, when those two teams were at the top of their game.

New York has a great infield, is strong back of the plate and in the outfield. The pitching is perhaps not all that might be desired, but leave that problem to McGraw to solve.

If the Giant pitchers were showing the form they did against the Yankees in the world series McGraw wouldn't have a worry.

Pittsburgh and St Louis look like the most formidable contenders for the runner-up honors, while Brooklyn, Chicago, Cincinnati and Boston might be rated as the dark horses.

Boston Disappointing.

Boston got away to a very bad start and disappointed badly in the early stages of the race. Of late the club has been playing the game it is capable of and is closing up the gap. Mitchell says he will be satisfied with nothing worse than fourth.

Pitching is usually the problem that confronts every club. Pitching, or lack of pitching, has played havoc with the Cardinals and Pirates.

Cooper, the star of the Pittsburgh staff and one of the game's greatest left-handers, has not won with his usual consistency. Grimes the star of the Brooklyn staff, had trouble hitting his stride. Alexander of Chicago has had varying success.

When the star of a team's staff has troube winning it raises havoc with the team in general.

New York's Chance.

Grimes of Brooklyn appears to have recovered his form. With Reuther going great and several of the recruits showing well, Brooklyn will probably be very troublesome the rest of the way.

In the National league New York looms up as the class of the field. Pittsburgh and St. Louis are contenders. Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Chicago and Boston are close up, with any of them having a chance to prove troublesome and break into the first division.

Philadelphia will probably think it is out of the league before the race is over. The Phillies appear destined to get the flag before coming into the stretch.

In conclusion, the team that beats the New York Giants is going to play in the world series.

HOW TO PLAY BALL

Batters Often Tip You on What They Intend to Do, Says Gardner

By LARRY GARDNER
Veteran Star of the Cleveland Indians.

In playing third base there are many points which the major leaguer considers most important, yet they mean little or nothing to the amateur.

It is not well to try to absorb in one dose all there is to know about a position on the infield.

It is much better to learn the elementary essentials and to grasp the inside stuff as the play advances in his profession. My knowledge of playing third base has been acquired through observation and advice scattered over years of service.

I consider a study of the batters of utmost importance. It will enable the third baseman, in a great many cases, to determine whether the batsman intends to bunt or hit.

Gives Self Away.

This cannot be done with all batters. But in a great many cases the batter has some peculiar movement or motion with which he gives away his intentions.

Another important thing is to learn as soon as possible the field to which a batter is most likely to hit. This helps greatly in a third baseman's ability to cover ground.

The fact that a third baseman knows what each pitched ball is going to be also aids him in covering more ground.

An infielder should be ready at all times to help a teammate on plays by coaching him. In fact the more each infielder helps the other, the better the team play and organization is built up.

Go After 'Em.

I consider it of great importance for a third baseman to try for every ball hit in his territory, regardless of whether he makes an error or not.

Show me a player who makes plenty of errors and I will show you a player who is always giving his best efforts—which in the long run will get results.

Last, but not least, I feel that every infielder should work to perfect his throw to first base. Hard work and constant practice will accomplish wonders in this respect.

A player cannot get too much practice. In baseball like everything else it makes perfect.

CURLEY SMITH AND KID GLEASON TO GO TWELVE ROUNDS IN BURKBURNETT

BURKBURNETT, TEXAS, June 23—Curley Smith, known in local boxing circles as the "cave man," of Bartlesville, Okla., and Kid Gleason of Philadelphia have been matched by Pal Brown for a 12-round bout here next Tuesday night. The bout is to be held under the auspices of the American Legion. Several good preliminaries have also been arranged.

Plans for another good card on the Fourth of July are also under way.

A Stiff Climb.

If the Crabs can repeat against the Panthers the last of the month, the Spudders will have a chance. Otherwise, they might as well be preparing for the second half—if there is one. Five games are almost too much for the boys to overcome in the little time that is left. Still, stranger things have happened.

Galveston Did It.

The Spudders have the Sand Crabs to thank—or course—for their present percentage. Though they have been in seventh place practically all season they have dealt the Salmites more misery than any other club in the circuit.

First Loss for Babe.

Babe Ruth was charged with his first defeat of the season. Incidentally, he pitched better ball than he did in several games that were saved for him. Such is the life of a hurler.

Pitching Not Responsible.

Two of the losses to the Crabs cannot be attributed to poor hurling. The numerous injuries have apparently demoralized the club. However, the opposition's hurling was of high order.

Somebody's Skull.

Somebody must have pulled a beaut in the sixth when McDonald failed to score. Tex was on third and Beck on second when Ruth skied to center. Beck was thrown out trying to reach third after the catch and he was put out before McDonald crossed the plate. All the bases are the same distance apart and if both runners left their places the moment the ball was caught Tex should have crossed the plate long before Beck was out as he is much faster and Beck had to be tagged. The center fielder's throw might have reached third before Texas was over, but Beck could have held up until he had scored. It wasn't a force out. Either Beck failed to keep his head up or McDonald loafed home. As matters turned out, that tally would have won the game.

Can Use It Some Time.

John Paul Jones is scheduled to report in San Antonio during the present series. The Spudders won't drop many more if they continue to get the hurling they have received thus far. President Harvey is on the road looking for new material, but it looks as if it is too late to do any good now. If he gets anything worth while, however, it will come in handy later on.

One Bad Inning.

Reid and Swartz of Dallas had one of those bad innings Thursday. The Bears collected 10 runs in the seventh.

Exporters Creeping Back.

Though there are a few points difference in the percentage column, the Exporters are in a virtual tie again with the Spudders. Joe Mathes' crew has as good an opportunity to blaze through to the front as any club. The Beaumonters are mixing it with the Panthers for three days now. It will be their last opportunity. Local fans hope they make the most of it. Every Beaumont victory helps the Spudders.

HARVARD FRESHMEN BEAT YALE IN ANNUAL RACE

NEW LONDON, CONN., June 23—Harvard won the freshman race in the regatta today by several lengths. The Yale boat became swamped 200 yards from the finish. The official time of the race was Harvard 11 minutes 19 seconds.

JUMPED INTO THE MOVIES

Bob Le Gendre, star of Georgetown college, has announced his retirement from athletics and college to enter the movies. Here he is shown taking the hurdles in a recent meet.

Billy Evans says

"Babe" Ruth has given up any hopes that he may have had of breaking his 1921 record of 59 home runs.

While Babe was on the suspended list I talked that question over with him. At that time he believed that if he got off to a good start he might better 59.

It is a matter of record that nothing helps the batting eye as much as real pitching in actual competition. Babe did a lot of practice hitting between the opening of the season and the raising of his suspension, but the old batting eye wasn't properly trimmed.

Babe soon discovered that the pitching he had faced in batting practice in no way compared to the real stuff. As a result he was slow in hitting his stride.

Recently in St. Louis, Babe cracked out his sixth home run of the year, his third in three days. It was a terrific drive that cleared the right field wall by thirty feet.

Just before the game started the next day I remarked to Babe, "What about breaking the old mark of 59 home runs?"

He smiled broadly and replied, "I have just about decided that 59 home runs is going to stand for 1922. I had hopes that I might smash it, but have decided it is a bit too much for me to shoot at."

I agreed with Babe that to break his mark of 59 homers after a six weeks' suspension was practically an impossibility. However, don't get the impression that Babe is ready to turn his home run crown over to someone else.

"While I don't, expect to break

my mark of 59," continued the Babe, "you can tell the world that I will top the home run hitters in both the American and National leagues when they ring down the curtain.

"I don't know how many home runs I will need. It may be twenty and it may be forty. Whatever it is I will make them. I will still be the home run king at the close of the 1922 season.

"I fully expect to be out in front by August 1. Once I am out in front the boys are going to have a hard time catching me. Spotting hitters like Williams and Hornsby a dozen home runs is some handicap, but I feel that I will prove equal to it."

GREENVILLE CLINCHES FLAG IN T-O LEAGUE

DALLAS, June 23—Greenville clinched the Texas-Oklahoma league league pennant for the first half of the season which closes Monday by winning yesterday's game from Bonham according to the official figures issued by William B. Riggles secretary-statistician of the league. Should Greenville lose all of its remaining games and Paris win all of its games, the standing would be:

	P	W	L	Pct
Greenville .	63	43	20	.683
Paris ..	65	44	21	.677

Greenville has been in the lead practically from the start, with Paris close contender throughout.

CANDIDATES SPEAK AT BRUSHY SCHOOL HOUSE

HASKELL, TEXAS, June 23—Last Saturday night at Brushy school house there was an ice cream supper and many of the county candidates were there and told the voters how well they loved them. The political situation in this county is getting rather interesting with four out for sheriff, five for county judge and four for county superintendant of public instructions.

Traynor Playing Sensational Ball For the Pirates

The sensational play of "Pie" Traynor, Pirate third sacker is becoming household gossip in and about Pittsburgh. "Pie" is already a big favorite at Forbes field and he seems to be getting better all the time. Traynor ran into some tough breaks at the start of the season. His fielding was good, but the opposing fielders were killing going and is hitting over the .275 off his hits. Traynor finally got mark. Two of his drives have been four-base clouts which won ball games.

The following is what a Norfolk sports writer thinks of Traynor.

"Judging from reports emanating from Pittsburgh the Pirates made a tenstrike when they paid $10,000 and took 'Pie' Traynor, sensational infielder of the Portsmouth club of 1920. To Tom McNamara, Pirate scout and a former well-known Virginia league umpire goes the credit for Traynor's quick advance as it was on McNamara's recommendation that the deal for Traynor was closed.

"A large array of big league scouts looked at Traynor, but Art Devlin, scouting for the Giants, was the only scout outside of McNamara who had enough baseball vision to see in Traynor a future big leaguer."

CONCRETE POURING TO BEGIN ON NEW CLUB HOUSE SOON

Pouring of the concrete footings for the new Country club home will begin Saturday, according to the Whitehill Construction company Material is on hand and the machinery has been installed

The plumbing contractors although they will be forced to wait for some little time, have a goodly portion of their material on the grounds including the new boiler Mr Whitehill stated that in all his experiences this is the first time that he remembered that a boiler was on the grounds before actual construction work began

In his opinion the general contract work on the new club house will be concluded by the middle of November

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 23.—There was some buying in the cotton market on higher Liverpool cables than expected and the opening was unchanged to five points higher, with October selling at 22.41 and December at 22.32. This was considered a poor response to the showing of the English market and there was scattered selling on reports of generally favorable weather in the south as a result of which prices were rather irregular after the call. The early selling movement carried the price off to 22.03 before the end of the first hour, or about 30 points lower, and 52 points below the high record of last Tuesday. There was some trade buying at this decline and covering of shorts which the rallies of 15 or 16 points, the tone of the market was somewhat unsettled later and the bulges were not fully maintained.

Bischof market showed renewed ball in t during the early afternoon during the continued scattering threw a house liquidation and score by crop advices from the pinches. There was also southern stranded on the break which carried these were contracts off to 21.92, innings. 16 points net lower. closed easy.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, June 23.—A private reportof71 per cent of normal as the condition of the growing crop caused a drop of 28 to 44 points during the first hour of the sessionin cotton today, the decline carrying July down to 22.22. With the report were indicated crop figures of 11,100,000 bales, while the increasein acreage was put at nine per cent. The market was steadied at the decline by expectations of bullish week-end statistics.

Mill taking for the week of 200,000 bales against 164,000 this week last year caused only momentarily steadiness because traders compared them with last week's takings of 332,000 bales. Selling became more general and prices broke into new low ground under a flood of favorable crop and weather reports from both Texas and Oklahoma. Around 12:30 prices were 72 to 87 points under the finals of yesterday with July off to 21.90.

The most active months showed losses of 32 to 35 points following the posting of the forecast calling for fair weather over practically the entire cotton region but small recoveries ensued and at 11:00 o'clock prices were at losses of 22 to 25 points. July traded as low as 22.22.

Cotton closed easy at net declines of 67 to 78 points.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO, June 23.—Heat indicating shrinkage in the crop, tended to lift prices today in the first part of the board of trade session. Besides, Liverpool prices showed a greater turn than expected. Argentine dispatches told of increased export business. Opening prices which ranged from ½c to 1½c higher, July $1.14½@1.15 and September $1.15½@1.16, werefollowed by a slight setback.

Subsequently the market scored a decided fresh advance, predictions being current that the winter crop yield would be well below June 1 indications. Profit taking on a big scale, however, lead to a reaction in the late dealings. Prices closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to ½c higher, with July $1.13½@1.14 and September $1.14½@1.15.

Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. After opening ½c to ¾c higher, July 63½@63¾c, the corn market sagged a little.

The close was unsettled, at ½c to ¾c net advance. July 65½@¾c.

Oats started ½c to ¾c higher, July 26½@27¼c, and held at about the opening range.

Lower quotations on hogs weakened provisions.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 23.—Announcement that the stock exchange authorities had ordered an investigation into the recent remarkable movements of Mexican Petroleum made that stock the central feature at the active and strong opening of today's sessions. Mexican Petroleum was the first stock to appear on the ticker, the initial transaction of 500 shares at 184 showing a gain of half a point over yesterday's final prices. In the next half dozen sales embracing lots of 100 to 500 shares, the stock declined to 182½.

Other popular shares were higher by fractions to one point with heavy buying of Studebaker and several of the rails. New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Reading second preferred, were among the strongest transportations. U. S. Steel reacted a small fraction and other industrials of that class were irregular.

The weakened technical position of several of the speculative leaders as a result of the rapid advances of preceding days made them vulnerable to pressure and the entire market weakened after midday. Mexican Petroleum sold eight points below its early high and Studebaker 2½. Reactions in many other industrials and railroad issues ranged from one to two points.

NEW YORK COTTON IS OFF 70 POINTS ON CROP REPORTS

NEW YORK, June 23.—Reports of improved crop prospects were considered responsible for heavy general liquidation in the cotton market today. The opening was steady but selling became extremely active as favorable weather and crop advices reached here from the south and prices broke to 21.67 for July and 21.68 for October, or about 70 points below yesterday's closing quotations and more than 86 below the high point of last Tuesday.

Asparagus

(With Meck Hollandaise)

By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
Cooking Authority for NEA Service and Columbia University

(This recipe ahs been tested and proved right in the laboratories of Columbia university.)

Asparagus stalks should be scraped, and the tips cut about four inches from the top. The remainder of the stalks may be cut in small pieces and cooked 15 minutes in water to cover.

Then add the tips, tied in bunches, or place tips in a steamer set over the boiling stacks. Cook until tender. The stalks and water remaining are to be saved for a cream of asparagus soup

Hollendaise Sauce

Two tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, few grains cayenne, ½ cup milk, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, yolks of 2 eggs.

Melt butter, add flour, when smooth, add the milk, salt and cayenne—cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture is smooth and thick. Add lemon juice and yolks of eggs slightly beaten and mixed with a little of the hot sauce.

FIREWORKS ORDERED FOR CELEBRATION ON JULY 4

An order for several hundred dollars' worth of fireworks was placed Friday by the traction company, for use in the free display to be staged at Lake Wichita on July 4

The company is making elaborate preparations for the lake entertainment on the national holiday, and expects a record crowd to attend.

Make Your Chocolate Malted Milk at Home

The favorite soda fountain delicacy, chocolate malted milk, is both delicious and nourishing. But also it's expensive—if you buy it "ready-made" at the corner drug store.

However, you can make it yourself at home very inexpensively. Try this recipe:

Chocolate Malted Milk.

One teaspoon malted milk, 2 tablespoons chocolate sirup, 1 egg, 1½ cups milk.

Chill sirup, egg and milk before mixing. Put all ingredients in a pitcher and set in a pan of cracked ice. Beat with a dover beater five minutes.

Chocolate sirup is very convenient to keep on hand. A refreshing drink can be made quickly and easily.

Chocolate Sirup

One square bitter chocolate, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 cup water, few grains salt.

Melt chocolate over hot water. Add sugar and boiling water and boil five minutes.

(Copyright, 1922, NEA Service)

For Ice Cream

While the unprepared hostess may hesitate to serve plain cream from the corner drug store she need have no compunctions about this same cream with a delicious home-made sauce poured over it.

Strawberry Sauce

Either canned or fresh fruits can be used for fruit sauces. If canned fruits are used substitute the juice on the fruit for the water called for in the recipe.

One cup sugar, ½ cup water, 2 cups strawberries.

Boil sugar and water until a heavy sirup is formed. This will take eight minutes. Do not stir after the sugar is dissolved. Let the sirup cool and add the berries slightly crushed.

Raspberry sauce is made just like strawberry sauce except that the berries are not crushed.

1922 Egg-Nog

For this recipe you need:
One egg.
Two teaspoons sugar.
One teaspoon lemon juice
One cup rich milk.
Few gratings nutmeg.

Prohibition has not taken all the zest out of the egg-nog.

While some may demand the pre-Volstead elements that are lacking today, many of us will find the following recipe for a 1922 egg-nogg yields a delicious and refreshing as well as nourishing drink.

Beat egg well with sugar. Add lemon juice and continue beating. Add milk and pour from one glass to another sevtral times to mix.

Grate nutmeg over the top and serve at once. A few grains of salt should be added with the sugar and two or three drops of vanilla can be added with the lemon juice.

Egg-nogg can be made by beating the white and yolk of the egg saparately. The yolk is beaten with sugar and milk and the white beaten till stiff and dry and folded into the first mixture.

Always add a few grains of salt to any drink made of milk.

Cool Drink

Some afternoon when you're called upon to serve a cool drink to unexpected visitors and have nothing prepared you can easily make a refreshing and unique beverage by combining ginger ale and grape juice.

Mix a pint of ginger ale with a cup of grape juice in a shaker or, if you have no shaker, pour them from one pitcher to another several times. Iced tea can be added by using one pint ginger ale, one pint grape juice and one pint tea. Serve with cracked ice.

Here are two other hot weather drinks that require more preparation:

Fruit Punch.

One can pineapple, 1 quart water, 1 quart raspberries or strawberries, 6 oranges, 3 cups lemon sirup, cracked ice.

Grate pineapple. Put water and pineapple in a smooth sauce pan and boil three minutes. Strain. Add juice pressed from quart of fruit, orange juice and lemon sirup. Pour over cracked ice and serve.

Loganberry Cup.

One quart loganberry juice, 1 pint ginger ale, 1 pint tea, 2 lemons, 1 cup sugar.

Squeeze juice from lemons and strain. Stir sugar into hot tea. When sugar is dissolved add remaining ingredients and pour over cracked ice.

There are two things to remember in serving iced drinks. Always strain lemon or orange juice before adding to other juices and always serve a drink ice cold and with chips of ice in the glasses

Lamb Souffle

(With Green Peas and Caper Sauce)

By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
Cooking Authority for NEA Service and Columbia University

(This recipe has been tested and proved right in the laboratories of Columbia university.)

Two cups cold, cooked, chopped lamb, 1½ cups milk, ½ cup stale, soft break crumbs, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon paprika, 3 eggs, whites and yolks, beaten separately, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon finely cut parsley.

Heat milk, bread crumbs and butter and cook until thickened; add meat and seasonings and beaten egg yolks. Beat whites of eggs until stiff, then carefully fold them into the meat mixture. Turn into a buttered baking dish, set dish in a pan of water, and cook in a moderately hot oven 35 minutes.

Make two cups cream sauce, using three tablespoons of butter, four tablespoons flour, two cups milk, one teaspoon salt, a little pepper and one-half cup capers. In place of capers, one may use two tablespoons fine-cut parsley or two canned red peppers finely cut.

Peas, canned or fresh, make a suitable accompaniment.

Any dish containing eggs and milk should be baked in a pan of water. If the water boils, it indicates too hot an oven. If kept below the boiling point, the mixture will be creamy and delicate.

LAND OWNER SUES FOR OIL RUNS IN SUM OF OVER $3500

W. E. Timblin, whose suit against the Constantine Refining company is on trial in the 78th district court before Judge E. W. Napier, is asking judgment in a sum over $3,500 for oil runs off his land which he alleges is due him by the defendant.

The plaintiff charges that he made a contract with the defendant for the oil run from the well located on his land and that he has not yet received pay for 2,716 barrels which he values at $1.35 per barrel.

The defendant contends that it made a contract with the Lone Star Refining company to handle the oil and that if the amount sued for is due the plaintiff that they are not responsible for the amount, but that suit should be brought against the Lone Star.

TAKE ICE REGULARLY

We feel that we owe our customers something more than mere ice; we owe the Ice Service, and that includes helping them get the greatest possible benefit from the ice that we deliver to them.

Of course the more ice you USE the better we like it; but wasting it is a different matter. That gives you poor service.

One effective way to save ice is by keeping the ice chamber well filled—never less than half full. More ice is consumed in chilling a warm refrigerator than in keeping it cold. So for that reason we advise you to always have a full ice box.

IT PAYS TO TAKE ICE REGULARLY!

PURCHASE PLANT OF BEAVER-ELECTRA REFINING COMPANY

ELECTRA, TEXAS, June 22.—D. E. Decourse and associates of Devol, Okla., have bought the plant of the Beaver-Electra Refining company. The surface rights on 20 acres of land also go with the sale. It is understood that the purchase price was $95,000. The old Beaver-Electra company retins the mineral rights to 89 acres and the surface and mineral rights to 49 acres. It it understood that Eugene Constantine is interested with the purchasers.

Mr. Decourse was in Electra the first of this week. However no announcement has been made as to when his company expects to begin operating the refinery again.

The Beaver-Electra people recently sold the mineral rights to their property. They still retain 200 tank cars and the surface of 49 acres of ground.

CENTURY MARK IS STAINED WITH RED AS MERCURY SWELLS

The century mark was stained with red Thursday afternoon when the heat sent the mercury in the bulb to this point. It was an exceedingly hot day as the heat had full sway, there being but very little breeze to give relief.

The temperature remained around the 100 station for over three hours and during the night receded to the 80 degree mark. Agents from all points reported similar temperatures. At Amarillo the high mark for the day was 90 degrees.

Clear skies were reported from all points in the district and although the wind direction was south there was little movement if any.

NORMAL PRESIDENT WILL PROBABLY NOT BE PRINCIPAL HERE

R. L. Marquist, president of the Sul Ross state normal at Alpine, will not become principal of the Wichita Falls high school, it was learned Friday.

Prof. Marquist had accepted the local position subject to the approval of the board of regents of the normal, and it had been previously indicated that the board might not release him, so that the announcement Thursday did not occasion much surprise here. The president of the Sul Ross board announced that Prof. Marquist would remain there.

Superintendent Lee Clark is now in Denton, and it is not known what other plans for filling the vacancy are under consideration.

SEVERAL "DRIVES" IN PROGRESS HERE, WARNING IS ISSUED

Quite an epidemic of "drives" for various institutions in other cities has developed in Wichita Falls recently, according to Mrs. E. B. Gorsline, Jr. of the united charities, and she asks that any who are solicited to contribute to such causes make certain that the solicitor has a letter from her office approving the movement.

Several of these drives have come to an abrupt end recently, although not until substantial sums had been pledged. In one case, aid was being sought for an entirely non-existent institution.

Wichita Falls has always been looked upon as a fertile field for such campaigns, and it was largely for the purpose of checking unworthy drives that the united charities board was organized.

WANT FARMERS TO PLANT ONLY PURE SEED WHEAT

VERNON, TEXAS, June 22—A movement to induce Wilbarger county farmers to plant only pure seed wheat in the future has been launched by a local milling company, and is receiving the unanimous backing of Vernon bankers as well as the sanction of many leading farmers. According to present plans, the wheat will be purchased in quantity lots by the concern, and marketed to the farmers at cost. It will be stored at the mill.

Those interested locally claim that the average yield can be increased from four to six bushels an acre, that the wheat will mature earlier, and that it will bring a higher price if pure seed is used. Kanred is the variety preferred.

ANOTHER COMMUNICATION FROM MR. RATHKE

Editor The Times:

When I wrote my article to The Times last week, criticising the action of the commissioners' court, I did not do so or intend a newspaper controversy, but since Mr. Kuntz has answered the same and makes allusion to several things for which there is no occasion, I take the liberty of making a few corrections to his reply.

In the beginning of his artile, Mr. Kuntz quotes me as making several statements that branded the present incumbent as an incumbrance. Now, after reading my letter in The Times I find that it was published verbatim as written, word for word, as near as I can recall, and nowhere have I therein used the word incumbrance. Now there is quite a difference between incumbent and incumbrance, as I understand the English language, as any good dictionary will show. To this charge I plead not guilty.

Then he says the first bone of contention mentioned I the Buffalo Head creek bridge, and he says that it cost $2750, instead of $5,000. Granted the cost be a fact, as Mr. Kuntz certainly is in position to know what it cost better than an outsider, and that there two miles of grading, and that this was on an old road open for 20 years, and that for the last 10 years for a mail route, good. Now two miles does not cover one half of said road. That certainly goes to show that road is not of much importance to traffic for the general public, otherwise why was not the entire road graded. And I firmly deny that it was a bone of contention. I used it merely to demonstrate the economical side of the controversy. He says further it was not a bridge and a road for one individual, but for the entire community, granted; on the other hand where does he get that one individual stuff, when the petition itself shows that 28 free holders are asking for this road. Granting that one asked him to take his name off the petition, it still leaves 27, according to Hoyle. Then he continues, the right of way would have to be puchased, etc, etc, and that cost would near $8,000—to put the road in traveling condition, all for the benefit of a few men, he says here instead of one individual above. Then he says with the exception of one none of the 28 petitioners live anywhere near the road. What does he call anywhere near? And the fact that five of the real big tax payers of Wichita county lived in Wichita Falls, did not count at all; now let's consider that a little, these tax payers contribute their share to the building of every foot of public road, and for maintaining of same, as every tax payer, regardless whether the road or roads, are of material benefit to them, yet when they ask for a road near their lands and other properties (on which they pay taxes) that would benefit them directly by giving them a better, nearer, more direct approach to same, enabling them to enhance a higher rental or lease rental, by a more convenient and better road to market for their renters or lessees as it would, as stated in the petition, and in my former article give them the nearer and more direct approach to the concrete highway and thereby giving them use of four miles of pavement instead of two miles, the way they are required to go. Then he says one petitioner thought the road was to be graveled. Now I did not give any one to understand that the road would be graveled. One signer told me that he had formerly signed a petition against the road, but since there was to be an election to change from paving to graveling the roads, he had considered that probably if the change was made that road might at some time be graveled. I therto replied if the proposition to gravel carried and in the event we got the road, we would certainly try to get it graveled. Is that a misrepresentation? Neither did I tell anyone there was no opposition; on the contrary I told there was and by whom. Was that misrepresentation? He said the signers living out of the precinct knew nothing of the facts, and would seldom if ever travel over the road. Now I contend that most of the signers do live in the precinct, and time alone would show whether they would travel the road or not, and not Mr Kuntz's prediction. He says he does not set himsel judge of what the people need, yet he says the road is not needed after these petitioners say it is, for reasons stated above as well as in the petition

Mr. Kuntz says others signed for these and various other misrepresentations, but he failed to show any misrepresentative, and I challenge his ability to show one or any.

Then he says the present effort is the outgrowth of a family row, and the road was spite work and nothing else. Now this is no misrepresentation; it is a deliberate, plain constellation of facts, for as I am personally the only originator and circulator of the said petition or petitions, I deny that I have been implicated in a family row, and he should know the truth of this, for I went before the honorable commissioners' court about a year ago and stated my trouble and conferred with them before I get out a petition, and Mr. Kuntz was there and heard me. In fact, he said get out your petition and present it, and we will look into the matter. Now, to the allegation that he had said the road would not be put through as long as he was commissioner, on the very day that I stated that he was taken over the proposed route by some of the opposition; if I recall right, it was on a Sunday. One of the opposition called another of the opposing parties over the phone and told them that he had made that statement, so I have been told by parties who hard it over the phone. He said if the road be opened it would give seven miles dead road to point out. I beg to differ, inasmuch as it would eliminate one mile of dead road, at least, or would cause it to be the livest dead road anyone had ever seen, and right here, I venture to say, that in the event this proposed were opened, there would be more travel or traffic on this new road than on that 20 year old road. He also says in connection with the family row, that he objects to the commissioners court being used as a tool in a case of individual warfare; yet he seems to have done so, anyway, as I flatly deny that I have had any family row, and that it is spite work. As I have none, he seems to think that I wanted to show my disgruntlement, because I wrote the other article, and was the loser. Neither do I yet think that I am the loser as time will show, and if anyone tried to use the honorable court as a tool, as stated, I most emphatically deny that it was my co-petitioners and myself, and if any of the other side did, they seem to have succeeded admirably well. Now for my side of the controversy, not as far as carrying it on in the newspaper is concerned, but as to the amount it would cost to build said road. I think the taxpayers would have to bear the expense, and the signers of the said petition were certainly aware of the fact that they would have to help for same, and still they signed it, so they must certainly have thought they would be benefited by it. Or does he imagine they simply signed the petition for the sake of signing their names thereto. Respectfully,

E. H. F. RATHKE.

TWO FIELDS OF WHEAT THRESHED IN HASKELL

HASKELL, TEXAS, June 23—At this time there has been two fields of wheat threshed in Haskell county and the yield for Sam White's crop near Rochester was 25 bushels per acre and tested 60 pounds and sold for $1.05 per bushel. The other field, also near Rochester, tested 59 pounds and threshed out 24 bushels per acre.

The small grain in Haskell county this year is very small but the maize, kaffir and other grain crops are good with large acreage in this year.

The cotton crop for this year in Haskell looks as good as could be expected. The acreage is not 100 per cent but the condition at this time is.
